Democrats Propose $3.20 Slash With Raises in Pay

Wednesday Common Council Meeting Turns Into Stormy Three and a Half Hours of Debating, Flaring Tempers

A city budget cutting the former tentative tax rate $2.12 was adopted by a 7-6 party vote in a history-making storm of flaring tempers at last night's Common Council session.

The new tax rate, made possible by a slash of approximately $43,000 and new anticipated revenues amounting roughly to $39,000, is now $55.12 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, and is $7.56 under the 1956 rate. The first 1957 tentative rate was $57.24.

Democratic aldermen opposed the budget on the claim that it could have been cut by $3.20 and still have permitted the salary raises for policemen and firemen who attended the meeting in uniform and force and saw their pay-boost hopes realized.

A serious point of contention was raised by Alderman James K. Ryan (D) 10th ward, who held that the budget could be illegal on the point of listing pay-boost sums for the city clerk and corporation counsel, which were voided by recent council action, but the corporation counsel ruled that it would take another local law rather than a resolution to change the original salary items.

J. O. CHRISTIANSON
Banquet Speaker

Not Informed, Ryan Says

An increase in the city's parking meter rate, essential to the budget as a new revenue source, led to heated tilts between Aldermen Ryan and Richard V. Roth, (R), 12th ward, finance committee chairman.

Ryan, a minority member of the finance committee, claimed he had not been properly informed of the parking meter proposal, and Roth said he had been told of the plan which will raise meter charges from five cents to 10 cents an hour, and five cents for a half hour.

Ryan argued that the plan would be workable in some sections, but he felt it would not work well where the meters were not in heavy use. He also felt that persons making short stops for quick purchases should not be charged a nickel, and he argued that business men in all sections should have been consulted before final action on the proposal.

Mind Changes Charged

Hottest debate of the night followed the claim by Democrats that Republican councilmen, who indicated in earlier budget sessions that they were for more drastic slashes, had apparently changed their minds since last Monday night.

Charges of mind-changing came from several minority members. Roth as finance committee chairman was a main target, and at one point in the flare-up, William K. Bodenweber (D) ninth ward shouted: "I still contend that Mr. Roth does not have a mind of his own." Roth replied that it took seven votes to pass the budget.

The tentative budget of $2,335,665.36, as first reported, through the slashes and new revenues as announced last night is now approximately at $2,292,665.

Long Recesses

Last night's session, broken by long committee recesses, was prolonged by audience argument asking more drastic slashes and by talks in behalf of the pay boosts for the policemen and firemen. It lasted three and a half hours.

Eugene DeDea, of 110 Madison avenue, representing The Kingston Civic Association, argued that a budget close to $3,000,000 could have been cut to bring a tax rate of from $5 to $5.50 less than the first tentative rate of $57.24. The city, he said, cannot afford a tax rate of $55 or $56, or the salary raises listed in the budget.

Speak for Raises

Peter Keresman, of 69 Florence street, secretary of the New York State Police Conference, spoke in behalf of the police pay boost, Hugh Greer, 22 Staples street, president of the Kingston Uniformed Firemen's Association, and Carl J. Roesch, of Buffalo, trustee of the New York State Firefighters Association, AFL, argued for the raises listed for firemen.

Each stressed the point that low salaries do not attract qualified men to the essentially protective municipal departments and the pay locally has not been up to standard.

Firemen and policemen, aiming for $5,000 annual salaries by 1958, are due for partial raises this year and the balance in the next budget. The policemen are to get $420 and the firemen $400 under present budget terms.

No Change for DPW

Public works employes, listed for $150 this year, recently argued for $450 to compensate partially for a state ruling against paying time and a half for overtime, but no budget change was granted on this item. The public works department was also well represented at the meeting.

Before adjournment Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk named the finance committee to consider a possible new incinerator plan and to study means for additional sources of revenue. The committe is composed of Aldermen Roth, Ryan and McArdle.

The council president also named aldermen Mayes, Sass and Perry as a committee to study the proposal that the county SPCA take over the city's dog warden duties at a reduced cost to the city.

Both proposals were mentioned in Mayor Frederick H. Stang's annual message.

The aldermen also took initial action toward the city's participation in establishing a county-wide mental health district.

The council's vote on the new parking meter proposal like that on the budget was along party lines.

Ryan, Roth Argue

Alderman Ryan said of the parking meter move that "in essence it sounds good." Roth, he said, had mentioned it to him over the telephone, but it was

Authority Curbs Are Unveiled

Drastic Changes Being Proposed

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 17 (AP)—The state's "Little Hoover Commission" today unveiled a master plan for curbing the powers and privileges of New York's 33 semi-independent public authorities.

The commission's staff urged changes that would cut into the authorities' tax-exempt status, revise their makeup drastically and bring them under more direct control of the state government.

The report proposed:

1. Requiring authorities to make payments to local governments, in lieu of taxes, on debt-free, money-making facilities operated by the authorities.

2. Reducing the number of salaried members of an authority to one—the chairman, and then only if he serves as a full-time executive officer.

3. Giving the governor power to remove authority members "for cause."

4. Rescinding the power of subpoena held by four authorities and granting the power to new authorities only if "good and sufficient reason exists."

5. Requiring authorities to submit reports to the state comptroller on outstanding obligations.

6. Requiring authorities to file personnel reports with the governor and the legislature and to make public the salaries of all officers and employes.

Aim for Uniformity

The report called for numerous other changes in present procedure, many of them aimed at achieving uniformity in the operations and responsibilities of authorities.

The commission's official name is the Temporary State Commission on Coordination of State Activities.

The report was signed by Dr. William J. Ronan, who directed the study. He is dean of the Graduate School of Public Administration and Social Service at New York University.

Republican Sen. William S. Hults of Port Washington, commission chairman, said in a statement that, while the commission subscribed to "most" of the staff's recommendations, some were "still under study."

Discussion Likely

He acknowledged that the proposal regarding payments to local governments was "likely to provoke considerable discussion."

The report observed that all public authorities were exempt from taxation and that only one—the Niagara Frontier Port Authority—was required to make some payments in lieu of taxes.

"The financial problems of local governments," it continued, "are not solved merely by eliminating for them the costs of

CC Speaker Announced For Feb. 12

A prominent Minnesota educator regularly engaged by General Motors to address management meetings has been procured as speaker for the annual banquet of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday, Feb. 12, at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

He is Dr. J. O. Christianson of St. Paul, superintendent of the School of Agriculture at the University of Minnesota, a member of the President's White House Conference on Youth and chairman of the Governor's Advisory Council on Youth for the state of Minnesota.

In Demand by GM

Attorney Hugh R. Elwyn, banquet chairman, said the Chamber feels very forturate in being able to obtain Dr. Christianson, because General Motors usually limits his appearances to its own plant cities or those much larger than Kingston.

Chairman Elwyn said the reservation blanks will be mailed to members in the near future, and he stressed that tickets would be available to the public too, including ladies interested in the Chamber's program.

'All Have a Part'

Concerning Dr. Christianson, Chairman Elwyn said he has gained world-wide fame as an eloquent exponent of a philosophy for a successful community.

The doctor's philosophy is "that the best solution for most of our national, as well as local problems, is for more citizens to accept the challenge to actively participate in local affairs."

He says that "by so doing they help build a stronger political, economic, social and spiritual foundation for life in a community."

Dr. Christianson was born and reared on a South Dakota farm and received his degrees at the University of North Dakota and the University of Minnesota.

He was one of four Americans who spent the summer of 1948 in Sweden at the invitation of the Swedish government to observe the trend of affairs in that country. He also has traveled extensively studying the way of life of the peoples in Norway, Denmark, Germany, France, Belgium, Holland, England and Scotland.

Another feature of the banquet will be a brief report by George J. Silkworth, immediate past president of the Chamber of Commerce and the introduction of the officers elected for 1957.

Some Ellenville Resentment

Rose Receives Welcome On His Return to Bank

Ellenville, Jan. 17 (AP)—William R. Rose, accused of wrecking the town's biggest bank, strolled along downtown streets yesterday and was greeted with shouts and tears of joy along with some muttered resentment.

It was the 51-year-old former bank president's first appearance in this resort community since his arrest in New York city Dec. 3 by federal authorities.

Stays With Mother

Released in $25,000 bail in New York Tuesday, he returned here and spent the night at the big family home where he lives with his widowed mother, Mrs. Amie Rose.

Yesterday afternoon, he strolled down to the business center and made his first stop at the Ellenville National Bank, which was established to replace the Home National Bank which he headed.

The old bank is being liquidated by federal authorities. The new bank has taken over most of the old bank's accounts and retained many of its staff to work in the same quarters.

Joy at Bank

Rose's visit to the bank was a welcome home. No one would have thought that he is charged with manipulating $1,300,000 in bank funds.

Thirty employes who had known Rose as their boss greeted him joyfully. They crowded around, embracing him, some of them weeping.

Several officers of the new bank welcomed Rose.

Rose has claimed that his actions at the bank were designed only to help local businesses to keep going and thus boost the town, and that he did not personally profit from the alleged fund juggling.

Meets Friends

After a half hour in the bank, Rose strolled for an hour along the main streets, shaking hands with friends and storekeepers.

Most of the people who saw him greeted him warmly. But a police official and several business men expressed resentment at his appearance. The police official said "The man has more nerve than I have." A leading businessman, seeing Rose enter the bank, asked "How far can one man go?"

Officials of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which is handling the liquidation of the old bank, plan a conference with Rose Friday to get his help in straightening out the snarled financial records. He has promised cooperation.

Rayburn Is For Mid-East Plan of Ike

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP)—House Speaker Rayburn (Tex.) said today he "leans very strongly" toward giving President Eisenhower the economic aid authority he seeks for the Middle East.

Rayburn publicly threw his support also behind the other major proposal in the Eisenhower plan, providing advance authority to use U. S. forces in the Middle East in case of open Communist attack there.

Faces Criticism

Rayburn gave his endorsement in the face of criticism by members of his own party against the Eisenhower proposal.

The House Democratic leader specifically said he is opposed to separating the economic part of the Eisenhower plan from the military, or passing a mere congressional declaration of intent on the Middle East that would not have the force of law. Both proposals have been pushed by a number of Democrats.

Rayburn announced his stand at a news conference while Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther was "wholeheartedly" endorsing the Eisenhower proposal in testimony before the House Foreign Affairs Committee. That group is considering a resolution to carry out the Eisenhower ideas.

Testifies in Secret

The retired general, former commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces and now head of the American Red Cross, testified in secret but a summary was given out later.

In that statement Gruenther said a serious threat to peace exists in the Middle East and will "worsen" unless the Eisenhower plan for the troubled area is adopted quickly.

Rayburn appeared irked over a news account saying he had given some support to a congressional movement to delay the issue of economic aid to the Middle East.

Wants Record Clear

The Texan said he wanted to make it "clear," on the record and without misunderstanding, that:

"I think we've got to give the President the military thing about like what he asks for. . .

"I think it would be judicious for the Congress to seriously consider along with that giving the President authority for economic aid . . . and I lean

Big Budget Spurs Demand For Cuts in Appropriations

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee set out today to try to whittle down President Eisenhower's request to spend $71,807,000,000 during the next fiscal year.

One day after receiving Eisenhower's budget message, subcommittees arranged to begin scanning behind closed doors the fiscal needs of the Interior, Post Office and Treasury Departments. Members hope to chop substantial sums from the $73,300,000,000 in requests for new appropriations, some of which would carry over into later years.

Some Democrats and some Republicans complained about the size of the budget for the year starting next July 1, referring to it as inflationary.

And Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey cautioned that "we will have a depression that will make your hair curl" unless the government cuts down on its spending. He added that he probably would quit his job if, in the event of a depression, the Eisenhower administration tries to fight it with methods involving deficit spending.

Humphrey said he wasn't criticizing the administration for the size of the budget. But he said the rising trend of federal budgets "should promptly be stopped."

The size of the budget, a record for a peace year and the fifth highest in the nation's history, spurred congressional demands for sharp cuts in appropriations, on which spending is based.

Although contemplated spending in the coming fiscal year would be nearly three billions more than in the current year, the budget Eisenhower sent to Congress would be in balance for the third year in a row, as-

Cold Shatters Old Record for City; Most of State Due for Snow Tonight

Severe cold shattered another local weather record Wednesday when the mercury plummeted to three degrees below zero at 6 a. m., coldest for that date since the city engineer's office began a check on temperatures.

The warmest part of the day was recorded at 2 p. m., when it registered 12 above. Another frost-bitten three below was noted at 7 a. m. today.

The coldest day on record was Tuesday when a reading of 18 degrees below zero and a high of two below was registered.

Although temperatures moderated somewhat today, wintry weather kept in the spotlight as residents of New York state battled slippery roads and cold with temperatures plunging to as low as 31 below in one section, the Associated Press reported.

Snow was falling in some areas in the state and threatening others. The Albany Weather Bureau predicted continued cold at least through Monday.

The bureau reported an early-morning temperature of -31 at Saranac Lake. Readings elsewhere ranged from -24 at Speculator, in the Adirondacks, to 9 above in New York city.

At Glens Falls, the temperature dropped 18 degrees in three hours: From 6 above at 4:30 a. m. to 12 below at 7:30. The weather bureau said wind apparently had kept the temperature on the up side for a while. When the wind died, the temperature zoomed down.

The bureau reported these other overnight lows below zero: Watertown 23, Plattsburgh 15, Oneonta and Poughkeepsie 14, Elmira 13, Olean 9, Rome 8, Utica 7, Binghamton and Albany 5, Rochester 3. Buffalo and Syracuse registered plus 1.

Heavy snows moved across Lakes Erie and Niagara. The weather bureau said light snow would blanket most of the rest of the state tonight.

The Thruway driving lanes were reported clear, but the passing lane was slippery in

5-Day Withdrawal Sought

Egypt Regards Israeli Stand as Bar to Peace

United Nations, N. Y., Jan. 17 (AP) — Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi declared today that Israel's failure to withdraw her forces from Egypt is "threatening peace in the Middle East and beyond."

Fawzi led off a new round of Middle East debate in the 80-nation General Assembly as 24 Asian and African nations proposed that the assembly in effect give Israel five days to get all its forces out of Egypt and the Gaza Strip.

Egypt, which requested the assembly meeting, did not join in sponsorship of the resolution, which had been watered down considerably in the past few days and apparently did not go far enough to satisfy the Egyptians. Two other members of the 27-nation Asian-African group—Turkey and Laos—also declined, for unexplained reasons, to sponsor the proposal.

Fawzi said the Assembly faced a "glaring case of aggression which Israel unleashed on Oct. 29 and which persists even until today."

He accused Israel of destroying property and committing "countless atrocities against individuals" in the territory it occupies.

Israel, said Fawzi, "contemptuously refuses to comply" with Assembly resolutions ordering it out of Egypt and "does everything it can to turn our work here into a mockery and a sham."

He declared, "The Assembly is requested to decide whether or not aggression will be allowed to reign and rule." He urged that the Assembly uphold the UN charter and "take all necessary

Toscanini Body To Lie in State

ARTURO TOSCANINI

New York, Jan. 17 (AP)—The body of maestro Arturo Toscanini, musical genius beloved by millions for more than two generations, will lie in state for public viewing today and tomorrow.

The maestro died in his sleep yesterday morning at his home in Riverdale, the Bronx, following a stroke. He would have been 90 years old in March.

Not only the great personages mourned the loss of the dimunitive man who wove magical webs of entrancing music with his baton. There were also the countless "little people"—their lives enriched by the tapestries of sound produced for them by a dedicated artist.

Ike Pays Tribute

Said President Eisenhower in a statement:

"As man and as musician he gained the admiration of the world. He spoke in the universal language of music, but he also spoke in the language of free men everywhere.

"The music he created and the hatred of tyranny that was his are part of the legacy of our time."

Toscanini's body reposes at the Frank E. Campbell Funeral Home in Manhattan, where it may be viewed from 1:30 p. m. (EST) today and all of tomorrow.

There will be a solemn requiem Mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral at 10 a. m. Saturday. Later his body will be flown to Italy for burial in the family chapel in Milan.

Two Youths Held On Murder Counts

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 17 (AP)—Police early today placed murder charges against two teenagers in two separate slayings.

Detective Capt. Joseph P. McDonald said Benjamin Reid, 19, of (336 Windsor St.) Hartford, is being held in the murder of Mrs. Florine McCluney, whose body was found yesterday.

McDonald said that 17-year-old Leroy Whitehead of Big Piney, Wyo., has been charged in the fatal beating of second-hand merchant Joseph Rutstein Jan. 9.

Capt. McDonald said robbery was the apparent motive in the clubbing of Mrs. McCluney who lived at the same address as Reid.

Bargain Wasted

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—Three dollars in postage on a 3-cent letter caused postal clerks to wonder. Postmaster William Krenning found two mistakes. A clerk at a district post office had sold 15 of the new $1 stamps as 1-cent stamps. Mrs. Mary Erwin had put three of them on a letter she was mailing to a friend in another part of the city.

Eyes Wrong

Hartford, Conn. (AP)—An appliance store owner reported to police that a man with a black right eye had stolen a portable television set. Det. Capt. Joseph P. McDonald's squad picked up four men with black right eyes within a short time after the complaint was made. The thief was not among them.

LONG FREEDOM ENDS — John Henry Adams, 64, admitted in Colorado Springs, Colo., Jan. 16, that he escaped from a Mississippi penitentiary 28 years ago while serving a life sentence for the murder of his wife. He admitted that his real name was Noverta Randolph Clayton. He said he would fight extradition. (AP Wirephoto)

Russell to Check Planned Cut in Air Force Funds

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said today he is looking into a proposed $1,209,000,000 cut from last year in authorizations for air force funds.

Both he and Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) said in interviews they are pleased with President Eisenhower's budget proposals to increase actual spending by all three services during the year ending June 30, 1958. But both said they will question military officials closely about budget plans.

The budget Eisenhower sent to Congress yesterday proposes a 582 million dollar increase, to $17,472,000,000, in next year's air force spending from both old and new appropriations. Authorization for new spending, at $16,481,000,000, would be $1,209,000,000 below the amount Congress voted for the current year, when it added 900 millions to the amount Congress voted for the amount Eisenhower requested.

The President's message said that "the new obligational authority needed for the air force procurement program for the fiscal year 1958 is less than it otherwise would have been because of the additional appropriations for this purpose voted by the Congress last year."

Atomic Deer

Los Alamos, N. M. (AP)—The Isaac Walton League has been painting white deer on many of the roads in and around this atomic laboratory community. The idea is to alert residents and visitors of the chance of deer-car collisions. There are 25 to 30 deer killed each year in this way in Los Alamos or nearby, the State Game Department said.

40 Workers Still On Sit-Down Strike

New York, Jan. 17 (AP)—Some 40 workers, 30 of them women, are in the third day of a sit-down strike in a midtown Manhattan book binding plant in a dispute over wages.

"We'll stay here till we starve or get a raise." one worker shouted to newsmen yesterday from a ninth-floor window of the Spiral Binding Co. (406 W. 31st St.) in the garment district.

Police said the strike began at about 5 p. m. (EST) Tuesday and has continued around the clock.

An official of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers said yesterday the strikers had been without food since the sit-down started, and that police were preventing anyone getting food to them.

However, a company spokesman said "nobody's starving."

A police official, said the strikers ate twice yesterday. He said a union official, allowed to enter the plant, had candy bars, cookies and other items.

GI Loans Boost Proposal Draws Different Views

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP) — President Eisenhower's proposal to boost the maximum interest rate on GI home loans to 5 per cent drew criticism from some Democrats today. But one key Republican predicted Congress would approve it.

Sen. Capehart of Indiana, senior Republican on the Senate Banking Committee, said in an interview he would support the request and that he thought it would be approved.

But Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said he looked with "great skepticism" on the President's proposal. Sparkman is a senior member of the banking committee, which handles housing matters.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) also voiced opposition to the request to boost the present 4½ per cent top limit on GI home loans made or guaranteed by the Veterans Administration.

Last Dec. 1 the Eisenhower administration raised the interest rate on FHA-insured home loans from 4½ per cent to 5 per cent, excluding a one-half per cent insurance premium. The FHA rate was increased by administrative action but legislation is needed to boost the GI rate.

GI Money Scarce

GI home loan money has become increasingly scarce since the going rate on other types of commercial loans has risen to 5 per cent and above.

Taking note of this situation, Capehart asked:

"What lender is going to invest in a 4½ per cent loan when the other government-guaranteed loans, the FHA loans, are at the 5 per cent rate?"

Capehart said "it just doesn't make sense to try to keep the VA loans at the lower figure."

Sparkman said he did not believe the increase in the FHA rate had produced the predicted new flow of mortgage money for home loans of that type.

"I do not believe the administration should have raised this rate until Congress was in session," he said.

Humphrey's View

Humphrey said the Eisenhower administration had not used up its power to make direct VA loans. He said it should push these at the 4½ per cent rate.

He said Congress might have to authorize more direct loans in order to try to get housing for veterans at prices they could afford.

In the House, chairman Teague (D-Tex) of the veterans committee said the President's request was "not the answer" to the shortage of mortage funds.

"There is no question that an increase to 5 per cent will provide some money for veterans loans in the large cities," he said. "But it is not the answer to the needs of veterans in rural areas who can't get it at all."

Teague Statement

In a statement issued today, Teague said:

"The President is, in effect, saying that at a time when the administration has on hand 300 million dollars appropriated by the congress for loans to veterans which it has refused to use, it is necessary for congress to raise the interest rate in order that more money will be made available to veterans for home loans.

"It seems to me that the position of the administration is completely inconsistent...."

Teague also announced previously-planned committee hearings on veterans housing will begin Jan. 24.

Small Rural Churches Are Becoming Fewer

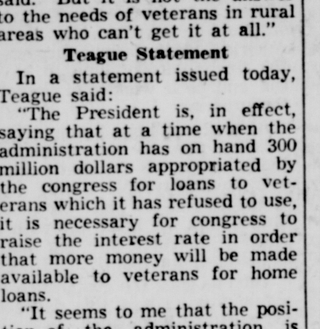

Buck Hill Falls, Pa., Jan. 17 (AP)—The small rural church, like the little red school house, may be on the way out.

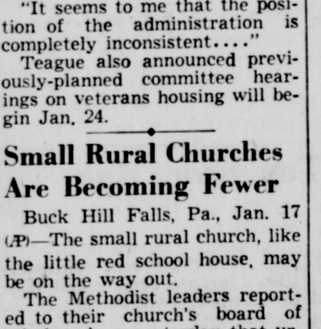

The Methodist leaders reported to their church's board of missions here yesterday that urban and suburban growth means fewer rural church goers and country meeting houses.

The shift of millions to new housing projects forces the building of many new and large churches in city and suburban sections, said Robert A. McKibben and Dr. Glenn F. Sanford.

Asserting that 500 church members were needed to support a pastor and his family under American economic conditions, the two said it was evident "the one-church or 'station' parish is not feasible in much of rural and village America."

While the Methodist Church will erect 1,500 new churches in the next three years, they said, about 1,300 small churches, mostly in rural areas have been abandoned.

OUR BIGGEST EXPLOSION

It is not news any more that America's population is booming and is expected to go on soaring. But it is significant that nothing is happening to upset the experts' staggering forecasts.

A couple of decades ago the specialists, scanning the nation from the vantage point of the depression, looked at declining birth rates and predicted a leveling off toward a stable population in America. They were sadly wrong.

Spurred by World War II and its bustling aftermath, birth rates shot up to amazing heights, and death rates dropped. The net effect was a sunburst of human growth that still is dazzling the nation's planners.

Right now the forecasters see no need to scale down their prophecy of 221 million people in this country by 1975. More than that, they are saying that in 43 years—when 2000 A.D. rolls around—we will hit the phenomenal total of 300 million.

Today the nation's population is growing faster than that of teeming India. It is incredible to think that in less than 20 years there will be another 50 million Americans crowding this continent and that in 43 years the increment will come to 130 million.

That is not too far from a doubling of the present 170 million.

Politicians, businessmen, civic leaders and social planners who are not addressing themselves to the problems this increase is bringing are likely to be judged as failing in their responsibilities.

From now on, everyone alert to tomorrow's needs in this country has got to be looking through a wide angle lens. There is no place for small-scale plans, for timid, unimaginative assault upon problems.

A limited attack can mean only one thing: utter social chaos.

We need far more than simply bigger schools, more and better roads, more hospitals, and so on.

We very likely need to think hard and long about the nature of the communities we are building. As presently designed are they organized for such crowded living? What can we do to make them serve human requirements more fully?

And we need to give urgent thought to the problems that go with living as individuals and groups in so overwhelming a context of people.

We still have much to learn about living elbow to elbow in the nation's public places.

It is an art we must surely master if our cities are not to become jungles of snarling competitors for space and for things.

THE PRESIDENCY BUG

It is inevitable in American politics that ambitious politicians must keep running for office. Actually the 1960 presidential campaign began the moment that President Eisenhower was re-elected, and the contest for the 1960 nominations will be conducted during the next four years.

These contests will be waged, of course, in a low key. In and out of the Senate, there will be many small decisions and actions which will be motivated by the 1960 prize. This is not unusual; rather it is one of the most normal features of American politics.

At the 1936 Democratic convention, H. L. Mencken sat watching politicians on a crowded platform and listening to them, one by one, flood the air of an almost empty convention hall with some of the most depressing oratory in American history. Nudging the man next to him in the press section, Mencken said, "Every one of those fellows on that platform thinks he can be President of the United States."

The bug of Pennsylvania Avenue fever is circulating in Washington. There is little immunity to it, and from now until 1960 the infection will keep spreading.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE NEW BRICKER AMENDMENT

Among the first resolutions introduced in the Senate is the recurrent Bricker Amendment which everybody wants passed but which is nevertheless ducked because the White House has come to believe, despite John Foster Dulles' early endorsment of the basic idea, that whereas it would be a good amendment if someone else were in office, its passage now would imply a lack of confidence in President Eisenhower.

Every President is likely to feel that any measure clarifying, enunciating or limiting his use of power is a personal criticism. Unfortunately it is in the nature of most important men to regard themselves as superlatively wise, humility being the characteristic of the prophet rather than of the politician.

The revised Bricker Amendment reads as follows:

"Section 1. A provision of a treaty or other international agreement not made in pursuance of this Constitution shall have no force or effect. This section shall not apply to treaties made prior to the effective date of this Constitution.

"Sec. 2. A treaty or other international agreement shall have legislative effect within the United States as a law thereof only through legislation, except to the extent that the Senate shall provide affirmatively, in its resolution advising and consenting to a treaty, that the treaty shall have legislative effect.

"Sec. 3. An international agreement other than a treaty shall have legislative effect within the United States as a law thereof only through legislation valid in the absence of such an international agreement.

"Sec. 4. On the question of advising and consenting to a treaty, the vote shall be determined by Yeas and Nays, and the names of the Senators voting for and against shall be entered on the Journal of the Senate."

It is very difficult to see how this amendment in any wise is a reflection upon President Eisenhower personally any more than the passage of the 22nd Amendment, limiting the Presidency to two terms, was a reflection on President Truman. Both amendments grew out of conditions arising during the Presidency of Franklin D. Roosevelt, and as he is dead, his reputation for good or evil is in the historic domain where it will remain evermore.

What makes the Bricker Amendment important is within the nature of the American constitutional system. Is a treaty ipso facto the law of the land even when the provision of a treaty violates the Federal Constitution? Are the provisions of a treaty so forceful that they may vitiate provisions of state constitutions or cancel out provisions of state legislatures? Must the enforcement provisions of a treaty be passed by Congress as laws or do they go into effect as soon as the treaty is ratified by the Senate?

In a leading case on the subject, Missouri vs. Holland, the court held:

"Acts of Congress are the supreme law of the land only when made in pursuance of the Constitution, while treaties are declared to be so when made under the authority of the United States. It is open to question whether the authority of the United States means more than the formal acts prescribed to make the convention."

No matter how this paragraph is construed, it does not settle the question. Rather is opens up the discussion as to the nature of a treaty, the nature of acts of Congress and the relation of the Constitution to both. As during the period of World War II and immediately thereafter the United States entered into secret agreements of various kinds with Soviet Russia and other countries and whereas some of these agreements have become exceedingly disturbing to the American people and now seem to be leading to warlike measures, the Bricker Amendment becomes important because it would establish beyond doubt that no treaty could be made which violated any provision of the Constitution. Senator John Bricker cites this:

"Examples of the effect of Section 1 are: a treaty wuold be invalid if it undertook to impair freedom of speech, press or religion; and a treaty would be invalid if it undertook to take private property without due process of law and just compensation."

The current revision of the Bricker Amendment, it would seem, meets all the criticisms and objections, except the psychological one that no President likes legislation passed during his term of office which even the Yemenites might regard as a loss of confidence in him.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

EPILEPSY

Epilepsy is a group of symptoms affecting the nervous system in which there are attacks of unconsciousness with or without convulsions. In about one-half the cases there is a family history of epilepsy with frequent family histories of nervous diseases, alcoholism, hysteria, St. Vitus' dance, allergy. Some exciting causes are (a) injury to the head or mental shock, (b) worms, (c) intestinal upsetments and parasites.

There are three types of epilepsy:

1. Grand Mal—convulsions followed by coma, deep sleep.
2. Petit Mal—pressing unconsciousness without a convulsion.
3. Jacksonian—convulsions in certain groups of muscles; patient is conscious.

Grand Mal is the usual epileptic fit. The patient often knows when an attack is coming on—restlessness, dizziness, outbursts of anger, depression—and seeks a place where help is available. Attacks often occur in bed toward morning. He falls unconscious in any direction with a cry or a moan.

There are three stages: (a) Tonic stage—muscles rigid, head back, hands clenched, trunk rigid, urine and wastes from the bowel come away, may bite tongue. Lasts a few seconds. (b) Clonic stage—muscular contractions, then violent jerks, eyes roll or blink, coughing or grunting, face perspires, may bite tongue. Lasts one to four minutes. (c) Comatose (deep sleep) stage—this stage lasts from a few minutes to several hours. When patient awakes, he remembers nothing. Headache and tiredness last for days afterward.

In Petit Mal, the patient becomes helpless, drops objects, stops talking, becomes unconscious for a few seconds, and is aware of what has happened.

In Jacksonian epilepsy there are convulsions only in certain groups of muscles, no loss of consciousness.

To distinguish between epilepsy and other diseases which resemble it such as hysteria, fainting and apoplexy we should keep certain facts in mind. In hysteria the patient is not unconscious, does not hurt himself when he falls or makes any movement. He knows what he is doing and is trying only to attract attention.

In fainting, the patient lies "quietly," no movement of limbs, eyes or face; face is pale; no bitten tongue.

In apoplexy the attack is sudden, accompanied by loss of consciousness, usually paralysis on one side of the body, breathing hard, face flushed.

During an epileptic attack the patient is placed on his back, jaw pried open and a spoon or other hard object placed between his teeth to prevent biting of tongue. Clothing is loosened and he is left in the lying position until he recovers consciousness.

Washington News

Around the Caribbean (NEA)—As in Washington, so it is in Havana: nothing stops the cocktail party. Other night Nicolas Arroyo Marquez, Cuba's minister of public works, had 30 or 40 friends in for a nip and snack. The man on the gate to the Arroyo estate was a soldier carrying a sub-machine gun.

Three more soldiers, similarly armed, lined the walk to the swimming pool area in the rear. And on the fringes of the patio, where the party was held, were five additional soldiers, also armed. The precaution, of course, was because of the terrorist activity then going on in Cuba. The guests didn't seem to notice the protection they had for their fun.

Most of them took time to inspect the helicopter which Arroyo keeps in his back yard for quick trips to one of the many building projects he has under way around the island. Both Mr. and Mrs. Arroyo are brilliant architects, by the way, and designed their own home and estate.

LAST WEEK the attractive Mrs. Jose M. Lacalle, wife of the vice president of the Cuban-American Sugar Mills Company, was showing her new maid how to serve wine from a wicker basket. She demonstrated by putting her elbow and forearm in the basket to simulate the bottle.

You guessed it. When time came for the maid to serve the wine that evening she came out with her elbow and forearm in the wicker basket, clutching the bottle in her fist.

AS IN LAS VEGAS, Nev., so it is in the plush gambling casinos all over the Caribbean and especially in Havana: everybody is wagering a lot of dough, but nobody seems to be enjoying his "fun." It's as though they'd throw you out if you dared smile or laugh.

The exception is the gambling room in the Sans Souci night club in Havana, presided over by a delightful witty and gay chap named sid Jacobs. "Sid almost makes it fun to lose," claims Ted Scott, famed columnist for the Havana Post.

An innovation at the San Souci, Sid's idea, is a special gambling room for the help to wager small stakes. The help used to spend their money in the main casino where they couldn't afford the stakes.

So Sid figured that if they had to gamble he'd make it as light as possible for them.

LUIS MUNOZ MARIN, famed governor of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, may be rated the outstanding statesman of Latin America, but he hasn't forgotten the fine points of how to have fun and be a wonderful host in the process.

At a recent huge beach party, called a jira, he noticed out of the corner of his eye that a cook was having trouble slicing one of the 12 roasted pigs. Governor Munoz took the knife and with a flourish dissected the pig with the skill of an expert.

Then he gave the grateful cook a few tips on how this delicate job must be performed.

THE MUCH - PUBLICIZED colorful Mayoress of San Juan, P.R., Felisa Rincon de Gautier, came up with a new cocktail party wrinkle at an affair for a bunch of visiting American newswomen.

One of the gals was complaining that she was sick of her braided hair-do. So the Mayoress of San Juan, to the delight of the guests, took the gal's hair down and redid it in a very effective Puerto Rican style.

THE RUM COMPANIES in the Caribbean are beating the drums for two new drinks they hope to make popular in the States. They are banana and pineapple liquor. One distiller claims that pineapple liquor will replace vodka as the drinking rage of the U. S.

This threat needn't scare the vodka makers one bit.

THREE MEN, all named L. Glickman, who were registered at a plush Havana hotel last week, found themselves going slowly crazy. They were answering the wrong pages, receiving the wrong mail and getting the wrong phone calls.

Finally, they had a meeting and decided that two Glickmans had to go. They drew cards with the result that one went to Nassau, one to Port au Prince, Haiti, while the winner stayed in Havana.

MAYOR ROBERT WAGNER of New York visited Cuban President Batista the other day, and guess what one of the main topics of discussion was. Bombs, naturally. While a nut in New York is terrorizing the city with homemade bombs, a flock of revolutionaries in Cuba is doing the same thing.

"I think President Batista probably has more bomb trouble than I do, however," Mayor Wagner said later.

A BARTENDER by the name of Antonio Cordero probably makes more frozen daiquiris per year than any barkeep in the world. He works in a rum distillery which gives them away free to visiting sightseers.

And does he drink a daiquiri when he's off work? "I can't stand the things," he insists. He's a teetotaler.

Federal Tax Slash Linked To Cutback in Expenditures

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 17—There will be a tax cut in a year or so only if the members of Congress, working with the executive departments, really prepare for it in advance—and the preparations will take at least twelve months.

This unusual way of laying before the American people the problem that confronts them if they want a reduction in taxes is largely the result of the cumbersome way the Federal government operates. For the budget just submitted by the President is the one that takes effect July 1 next and represents many commitments of an emergency nature already in process.

If a tax cut is to be achieved, it will be in the year 1958 when the expenses in the next budget have already been sufficiently reduced to make way for the tax changes and when presumably some idea has been gained of how much the tax collections for 1957—a good year from an economic standpoint—will increase.

Humphrey Is Quoted

What must be fully recognized, if there is to be a tax cut, is the need for removing politics from the spending program. The pendulum has swung so far in the direction of federal aid for all sorts of projects, that it will not be possible to swing it the other way without the support of an informed public opinion.

Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, the man who is basically responsible for President Eisenhower's fiscal policies, said some things in his press conference today with newsmen which are as important as the passage the President transmitted in his budget message to Congress. The secretary made a realistic statement that should be noted carefully because it contains the key to the whole economic future of the United States. He said:

"The billions of dollars spent annually by the government for military equipment and man power go into the spending stream, but are not matched by an increase in the production of peace-time goods, so that heavy pressure is put on the price of goods which all the people must buy.

"This imbalance makes it more difficult to keep the cost of living within bounds. Monetary measures alone may not be sufficient for this task unless the federal government makes reductions in its man power and in its purchases which will help to increase the production of additional peace-time goods and so help to hold down prices. Moreover, the funds so released will then be available to build up the capital needed to help create the new jobs, to build the new schools and the countless other improvements required in this growing country of ours."

'Military Economy'

What this means is that there is a kind of military economy dominant today. It is based on a huge expenditure for non-productive purposes. On international issues, America has no choice, however. It must, as Mr. Humphrey says, "remain both militarily and economically strong." So the real question is this: When such a pressure of circumstances over which this country does not have control is being applied, should there not be a corresponding obligation to do away with the luxuries or at least to postpone them till such time as the nation can afford them?

Mr. Eisenhower, in his recent State of the Union message, referred to "self-discipline" and the need for restraint by the leaders of business and of organized labor in handling prices and wages. But Secretary Humphrey spells out some additional obligations. He says the public must co-operate in "limiting its demands upon the Federal government for only essential Federal functions." He calls for pruning of Federal government expenses all along the line and says plainly that there must be "actual and substantial reductions through improved efficiency."

The 'Ideal Situation'

If the world could be made more peaceful and armaments could be reduced, it would be an ideal situation. For the money thus released would go into productive expenditure and permanent jobs. This cannot be insured, however, because of the uncertainty in the world situation. Hence, the alternative is to find ways and means of restraining and deferring expenditures—spreading them over a longer period of time.

The spending spree has to come to an end and a bigger surplus obtained before tax reduction can be made. And the tax cut must be used as a stimulus to the economy so as to take up the slack in unemployment arising from the transition period when man power is reduced in armament industries and labor is changed over to productive peace-time industries.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Chicago, Jan. 16—Larry Rue came to town from Bonn, on the Rhine, for the Chicago Tribune ceremonies and rounded up Robert Casey, another war fan as both soldier and correspondent, and I found them sitting in a murky place. Larry said Sinclair Lewis once spent about a year writing from preconceived prejudice a novel about the nobility and martyrism of a typical, composite American union boss.

"And the more he wrote the more he talked to people about the topic of unions," Mr. Rue said, "until he finally realized that the guy he was writing about was a crook and a racketeer. Instead of getting his information first, he started with this own ignorant supersitious prejudice. And when he learned the truth he tore up several hundred pages and said 'to hell with it.' "

I said Frazier Hunt had made the same mistake in his idolatrous biography of General Douglas MacArthur. Except that he didn't tear it up. MacArthur is a strutter who takes praise and awe as his due. He is not kind and probably would have made a bad president.

George Pattullo, who covered the first war for the Saturday Evening Post and was, I believe, the best war correspondent that our journalism ever has produced, said much the same thing about General Pershing. He wrote Pershing's history of the first war in Pershing's own office with a corporal standing guard with a bayonet and with a squad to deliver the documents to his table in the morning and collect them and return them to the vault at night. Pershing was friendly, but he trusted nobody. These papers showed that after the war the French proposed to use the American Army as a labor corps to clear away ruins and rebuild their villages and towns. Pershing absolutely refused. Pershing had a terrible ambition to be president, but it never got off the ground. He was a hero, but the Republicans were scared of him.

Frazier Hunt put in five years doing his eulogy of MacArthur. I warned him gently that the man he was writing about was largely myth, but he worked on and on, neglecting more inviting and operable subjects, to what end? Just as Hunt's MacArthur went onto the market, there emanated from the Waldorf tower, where MacArthur dwells in beautiful santification, a vapor of rumors disparaging Spike Hunt's book and exhalting another job by one of MacArthur's generals, which was more "official" than Spike's and more likely to be MacArthur's self-serving version.

Rue said Spike had done a job on Colonel Custer which was practically the same as Lewis' on the boss unioneer. We all grew up on the nickel-novel versions of the Indian wars.

"He wrote first and studied a few paces behind his production." Mr. Rue said. "Then, all of a sudden it came to him that he was trying to make a great hero out of a stupid, careless mediocrity. So, he tore it up and wrote it off. But he wouldn't turn around and write the reverse. If Custer wasn't a hero, that was too bad, but spike wasn't going to make a bum of him."

I had a letter from Spike Hunt in my pocket. His latest book, the story of Billy the Kid, had been slightingly praised a few months ago as much better work than the subject deserved. Now here was Spike explaning almost endearingly why he reasurrected Billy the Kid and breathed the warmth of youthful adventure and passion into a stone-cold legend of the wild west.

"He was," Spike said, "a strange, unappreciated kid, who for three short and wonderful years raised joyous hell and discovered that the dark little girls of New Mexico were as soft and sweet as those he had met along the Rio Grande. He was warm in his heart and his veins. He wanted to gamble and race his mare and steal a little and make a little love in the moonlight. But the rich and important people got Pat Garrett to bump him. And Pat, a decent enough man, winds up 30 years later with a slug as big as a pickle through the back of his head."

So, Gene Fowler's compassionate treatment of Jimmy Walker, John Barrymore, Bill Fields and Sadakichi Hartman becomes a little less wasteful of a beautiful talent, good white paper and ink. The sister of Roger Touhy, denying herself to labor and pray for 25 years for his deliverance from Joliet; the sister of Gerald Chapman weeping and entreating Connecticut governors to give back the body of her brother for the family plot, would understand.

Larry praised Bob Casey's book on picturesque reporters called quaint who merely had the energy and character to be themselves.

"I forgot one," Bob said. "He was a young fellow on a London paper who traveled all over the United States collecting ashtrays from hotels and night clubs. Back in London they seemed out of place. So he retraced his steps and put them all back where he got them."

Weekend Mayor

Silverstreet, S. C. (AP)—Silverstreet's population of about 150 apparently feels the community is small enough to get along with a "weekend" mayor. Henry M. Havird fills the office only on Saturdays and Sundays when he stays at the old family home. The rest of the time he lives 65 miles away in Columbia where he holds a position with the South Carolina Employment Security Commission.

Good results are obtained from using either iron pans or heat-resistant glass custard cups for baking popovers.

HAILS ARCHITECTS—This unusual-looking new U.S. stamp honors the architects of America. First sale will be in New York City on Feb. 23, to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the founding of the American Institute of Architects. Symbolizing the changes in architectural style in the past 100 years is the decoration at left. It is a modernistic mushroom-type pillar superimposed on a classic Corinthian capital.

Lyonsville

Lyonsville, Jan. 16—Lyonsville Reformed Church, the Rev. Herman J. Knickle, pastor. Services at 11:15 a. m.

The regular December business meeting of the Lyonsville Community Club and annual Christmas party was preceded with a dinner which was enjoyed by a fine attendance of membership. Mrs. Oscar Christensen, Miss Wanda Roosa and Frank De Franco Jr. were in charge of arrangements and decorations. During the evening three of the oldest members, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bush Pryke and Mrs. Chester L. Roosa were honored with gifts. Mrs. Roosa was presented with a pen and pencil set by Deacon Christensen in behalf of the club members and the church consistorymen and their wives. The gift was a token of appreciation for Mrs. Roosa's many years of loyal service as musician of the Lyonsville Reformed Church and Lyonsville Community Club. The club officers made the presentation of gifts from all the members to Mr. and Mrs. Pryke for their outstanding active interest in community spirit inspite of advanced years. Gaily wrapped gifts for the Children's Home were donated by all the members and Christmas scrapbooks for the children's wards of Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals which had been assembled by the club members were distributed at holiday time by Mrs. J. E. Burger.

President Sherman Barley and the new staff of officers presided during the business meeting. Games, singing and dancing brought the meeting to a close.

The next meeting will be held Saturday, Jan. 19 at 8 p. m.

Some Attendance!

Denton, Tex. (AP)—Berk Kaufhold, a junior at North Texas State College here, was given the job of promoting attendance at the college's radio club. He made numerous telephone calls and personal contacts, and the result was a large cowd. But when club officers sought Kaufhold to congratulate him, they found he slept through the meeting.

AMERICAN MENU:

Tangy Winesap Apples Are Delightful in an Angel Pie

FLUFFY CLOUDS of whipped cream fit right in with the name when you serve Angel Pie, made from winesaps.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Ever eat "pipe crust" made of beaten egg whites, mixed with sugar, salt and chopped nuts? Here's your chance—an exclusive apple pie recipe from the Pacific Northwest where all-purpose winesaps will be in excellent supply for two months at least.

Apple Angel Pie
(Makes 1 9-inch pie)

Nut Crust—One egg white, ¼ cup sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1½ cups nutmeats, finely chopped.

Beat egg white until stiff but not dry. Add sugar and salt gradually and beat until stiff and satiny. Add nut meats and blend well. Press onto bottom and sides of a well-greased 9-inch pie plate with a fork. Prick bottom and sides of crust. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 12 minutes. Let cool.

Apple Filling—Four to 6 medium size winesap apples, 3 cups water, ¾ cup sugar, ¾ teaspoon instant coffee, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, ½ cup whipping cream, whipped.

Pare and core apples, and cut into uniform slices. Bring 2½ cups water to a boil. Add sugar, instant coffee and cinnamon which have been previously combined, to make a syrup. Simmer apple slices in syrup slowly until tender, 3 to 5 minutes. Carefully remove from syrup and allow to cool, reserving liquid. Combine cornstarch with remaining ½ cup cold water; add to syrup with the butter or margarine and simmer 1 to 2 minutes longer. Cool slightly. Arrange apple slices in nut crest and carefully pour syrup over them. Chill. Serve with poofs of whipped cream which have been lightly sprinkled with instant coffee.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Creamed tuna and olives, fluffy rice, canned peas, toasted muffins, green salad, French dressing, winesap angel pie, coffee, tea, milk.

Riesel Hopeful Some Sight Will Return

Fall River, Mass., Jan. 17 (AP)—Labor columnist Victor Riesel, blinded by an underworld acid attack last April, was hopeful today that "some sight will be regained in the right eye."

In an interview last night with a Fall River Herald-News reporter, Riesel said:

"It won't be sight as you people in the bright world know it. I won't be able to read copy but I will be able to tell that there is a piece of paper in my typewriter."

The newspaper columnist said he consulted eye surgeon Maurice Whiting while in England recently and was told that a series of minor operations would do the job.

He added that the operations would involve "one weekend every three months."

The operations would be performed in the United States, Riesel said.

Riesel was in Fall River to give a talk.

Conscience Counts

Paducah, Ky. (AP) — Someone here has eased a conscience that plagued him 21 years. He returned the same purse, compact, cigarette case and wallet taken from Mrs. Ethan Cudney's auto in Pontiac, Mich., in 1935. Only the $40 was missing. But the remorseful thief also included in the package, mailed to Pontiac, a postal money order for $40.

This group of missionary volunteers made up of young people from Middletown, Port Jervis, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Coxsackie, Livingston and Kingston Seventh-day Adventist Churches, met for the purpose of initiating the march for Christ in their own churches.

Local Elder Is Leader

Gerald Shampo, local elder in the Kingston church, was acting leader for the evening. Robert Palmer, treasurer of the Newburgh church opened the meeting with prayer. Dr. John E. Klooster of the Newburgh Church read the objectives of the society.

After hearing the objectives, each church was invited to choose a candidate for permanent leader of "Youth For This Hour." Of those nominated, Dr. Klooster, elder of the Newburgh church, was chosen as permanent leader.

The following were elected as members of the steering committee: Mr. Shampo of Kingston; Glen Dryer, pastor-teacher of Poughkeepsie; Harold Bledsoe, treasurer of Livingston Church; Charles Barkman Jr., press secretary of Coxsackie.

Special music rendered by Mrs. Dryer included hymns on the accordion.

The speaker for the evening, was the Rev. F. E. J. Harder, missionary volunteer secretary and educational superintendent of the Greater New York Conference. The Rev. Mr. Harder brought to the group a timely message on the part young people should be playing in today's world.

Candy recipes often direct that crystals from the sides of the saucepan be washed down during the cooking. To do so, a pastry brush dipped in water may be used.

'My Fair Lady' Fill-in Is Approved

New York, Jan. 17 (AP)—An arbitrator has ruled that Rex Harrison may be replaced by an Irish actor in Broadway's smash hit, "My Fair Lady."

The dispute threatened to shutter the show when the producers announced last week that Edward Mulhare would fill in for Harrison when the star of the musical begins a four-week vacation Feb. 4.

Actors Equity had protested the importation of a foreign actor. Equity claimed any trained American actor could play the part just as well.

Both sides accepted Theodore W. Kheel as arbitrator.

Kheel ruled yesterday in favor of Mulhare and his decision was accepted as binding by Equity.

County Safety Directors Are Called Necessary

Schenectady, N. Y., Jan. 17 (AP) Michael H. Prendergast, state safety director, today proposed that each county designate a safety director to steer an accident-prevention program at the grass roots level.

Prendergast spoke at the winter meeting of the State Supervisors Assn. More than 300 are attending the three-day meeting, which opened yesterday.

Prendergast suggested that the county man's sole responsibility be the development, coordination and direction of safety programs.

"This, of course, might raise immediate budget problems for many of you," Prendergast said, "but I feel the good to be gained from such a move is well worth any expendiutre of time, money and effort our localities can muster."

Prendergast said a well balanced safety program at the grass roots level would pay "untold dividends."

Over Million Dwellings Started During 1956

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP)—The Labor Department said today 1,120,000 dwelling units were put under construction in 1956, the eighth straight year in which housing starts passed the million mark.

The department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said the 1956 homebuilding rate was down 16 per cent from 1955 and 8 per cent from 1954, but was about the same as the annual totals in the 1951-53 period.

When allowance is made for population growth, however, the bureau said, the 1956 homebuilding rate was the lowest since the years right after World War 2.

The bureau said that housing starts last December declined about as anticipated for that time of the year to 64,000 units, down 20 per cent from November.

UP COME THE EYEBROWS—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D.-Va.) presented this expression in Washington as he took a look at President Eisenhower's new budget. Byrd, who is chairman of Senate finance committee, will have a lot to say about how money will be spent during the next year. The President estimated expenditures of $71.8 billion and income of $73.6 billion for 12 months beginning next July. (AP Wirephoto)

Won't Give Name

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 17 (AP)—A 14-year-old boy, who says he ran away from home because he was "bored with school," has steadfastly refused to identify himself to police for nine days. Police said the boy, dubbed "John" temporarily, was found sleeping in a parked car Jan. 8 in suburban East Aurora. The authorities said that no one answering the boy's description has been reported wanted or missing in this area or in nearby Canada.

Wrong Bucks

Tower, Minn. (AP) — A classic northwoods argument over possession of a slain deer ended with the five disputing hunters paying $65 in fines—and none getting the deer. Four were fined for having loaded rifles in their vehicles. The other was nicked by the judge for failing to put a seal on the deer. The deer was confiscated by the court.

Fine Judge

Montgomery, Ala. (AP)—Robert Bass was brought before Judge Eugene Loe in City Police Court on a charge of refusing to pay a $1.25 taxi fare. Loe learned the man was free under five-year probation so a conviction, even on a minor charge, would force him back to prison The taxi driver agreed to drop the charge if he were paid, Bass could find only a dollar in his pockets so the judge said: "It's O.K. I'll pay the quarter."

Feeling Is Split On Knowland Bid For Presidency

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP)—Some colleagues of Sen. Knowland (R.-Calif.) said today they see less than a 50-50 chance that he will seek the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

They reached that conclusion after re-assessing Knowland's announcement last week that he will leave the Senate when his present term expires in January 1959.

His surprise announcement was interpreted widely at first as indicating he plans to run for governor in California next year. That move was considered a possible stepping stone toward a bid to become the party's presidential standard bearer.

Stand Declined

Knowland himself declined to confirm or deny the speculation at the time.

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California hopes to learn on a visit here in the next few days whether there is any such possibility in the wind. Knight, planning to attend President Eisenhower's inaugural, expects to confer with Knowland.

Knight, a Republican, has given every indication he wants to run for re-election next year. Himself a potential bidder for the 1960 presidential nomination, he has said he doesn't want to replace Knowland in the Senate.

Signs Point to Battle

If Knowland should choose to seek the governorship, signs now point toward a primary battle with Knight. The winner, if elected governor, then might pit himself against another Californian, Vice President Nixon, in the battle for the party's 1960 presidential nomination.

While he hasn't closed the door to this possibility, Knowland has gone a long way toward convincing some of his associates that personal considerations were more influential than political reasons for his decision to retire from the Senate.

Knowland is said to have commented that his family has in the Oakland Tribune a property worth several million dollars which he believes needs his personal attention.

He said at the time of his announcement he had always regarded himself as a newspaper man and wanted to get back in that business. He noted that his publisher father is 83 years old.

Wingo Speaker At Couples Club

Chief Quartermaster James Wingo, USN., Recruiter in charge of the Kingston Navy recruiting office in the postoffice building, spoke at the monthly meeting of the Couples Club of the Fair Street Reformed Church Wednesday. Two interesting films of the navy's participation in World War 2 and a film of navy carrier action during the Korean war were shown.

The film "Silent Action" showing submarine action in the Pacific during World War 2 when the underwater craft destroyed Jap commercial tonnage to the extent that it was practically eliminated and in addition sunk much of the Jap naval craft, proved most interesting. A second film "Carrier Action off Korea" showed the Navy role in the Korean war and how carrier based planes were used in support of ground troops.

Hungary Expels Two More Writers

Budapest, Jan. 17 (AP)—Hungary expelled two more western reporters today. Michael Weigall, 27, of Reuters and Raimund Hoerhager, 46, of the Sueddeutsche Zeitung, Munich, and other West German newspapers, were told to be gone by noon tomorrow.

John MacCormac, veteran correspondent of the New York Times was notified yesterday that he was being expelled, but he was leaving the country anyhow since the foreign ministry had refused to renew his permission to stay in Hungary.

Hoerhager said the foreign ministry told Weigall and himself they were being put out because of their "participation" in events on Csepel Island, site of Hungary's biggest industrial complex. Last week at least two workers were killed there in a clash between demonstrators and Hungarian Communist militia.

The departure of Weigall and Hoerhager would leave only two foreign correspondents representing the western press in Budapest. They are Hemer Ray, an Indian, who works for the International News Service, and Carl Hartman, an American, representing the Associated Press.

Hungarians Told Red China Backs Crushing Rebels

Budapest, Jan. 17 (AP)—The Hungarian people were told today that Communist China fully endorses the action taken by the Soviet armed forces in crushing the revolution in November. The Chinese Reds also support Premier Janos Kadar's program of ruthless liquidation of remaining rebels.

Radio Budapest, the voice of the Soviet-supported Kadar regime, broadcast a joint declaration signed by Kadar and Red China's Premier Chou En-lai drafted during Chou's 20-hour visit here.

The declaration was similar in tone to the Chinese-Polish statement released yesterday in Warsaw, where Chou was also a visitor on a mission lining up restive Communist nations behind unquestioned Kremlin leadership.

Leaves for Moscow

Chou flew off in a Soviet jet transport for Moscow to report in person to the Kremlin on his Warsaw and Budapest missions. The declaration was broadcast three hours after his departure.

The statement was aimed mainly at the United States. It accused imperialists of starting the Hungarian "counter-revolution" in order to launch a conquest of the east European people's democracies. It charged the United States with manipulating the United Nations to interfere in Hungary's internal affairs.

Is accused "the government of the United States, as the chief instigator of the imperialists," of trying to start a third world war with its activities in eastern Europe and the Eisenhower doctrine for the Middle East.

Shokan, Jan. 17—Mr. and Mrs. A. La Gatta of Nyack were at their Traver Hollow Camp during the weekend. The LaGattas last summer bought the 17 acre Myers farm on the Samsonville road.

Mrs. John Leacock Sr. of Yonkers called on Shokan friends and relatives last week.

Agnes White, housekeeper at the Catholic Rectory in Phoenicia recently called on her sister, Laura Weeks.

Charles Winchell, mentioned in the Don Ringwald story about the Rondout ferry was a native of this section. Captain Charley, as he was known, was married to Orpha Bush of Shokan.

Word has been received here of the serious illness of Mrs. Herbert Cordes, of Glen Rock, N. J. She is the former Margaret Krekeler who resided here about 40 years ago.

The historic old Ridge road used for more than 200 years now is distinguished by a steel marker at the Route 28 junction.

Stone Ridge residents here Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Hasbrouck. General Hasbrouck retired from Army service last year and the couple have a new house near the High Falls road.

Mrs. Cornwell Longyear writes from Albuquerque, N. M. that the drouth has caused heavy losses there.

Delaware county's well-known columnist, The Mountaineer, has reported that the county's estimated deer kill of 1,500 bucks and 1,000 does yielded 250,000 pounds of meat which at 50 cents a pound totals $125,000.

Mrs. Earl Dean, formerly of Ashokan, is visiting her friend, Mrs. Earl Elmendorf.

Lewis Davis of Delhi Institute and Glen Glass of the Cobleskill School recently were home for the weekend.

Roadblock Is Fine

Murphysboro, Ill. (AP)—Truck driver Robert Reed Welch learned about a bank robbery the hard way. He was arrested by Jackson County Deputy Sheriff Arch Edwards for passing a car in a "double yellow line no passing zone." When he paid his $14 fine in a Justice of the Peace Court, he was told that the car he passed was held up by a roadblock set up after a bank robbery at Campbell Hill.

Diplomats Feel Kremlin Fears Eisenhower Plan

Moscow, Jan. 17 (AP)—Foreign diplomats in Moscow say the Kremlin genuinely fears President Eisenhower's Middle East program and is trying desperately to find an effective counterattack.

The diplomats have talked with Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov and other Russian leaders. They say the Soviet reaction sums up to this:

See Encirclement

1. The Russians see the Eisenhower doctrine as another step toward western encirclement of the Soviet Union.

2. Their opposition is not just anti-West propaganda.

3. The Kremlin knows it has to come up with something concrete, not just propaganda, to defeat the new U. S. move.

The foreign diplomats point out, however, that the satellites are draining the Russian economy so heavily the Soviet Union can't hope to match U. S. dollars.

Mistake is Seen

Several diplomats in Moscow, including some friendly to the West, also say emphasis on the military side of the Eisenhower program, on the heels of the British-French invasion of Egypt, was a mistake.

"If the military aspects had been dropped or minimized, the program would have been hard to beat," one commented.

One diplomat after discussing the Eisenhower proposals with Soviet leaders said he believes the plan "still has the Soviet bosses off balance. They fear it and are seeking effective means of combatting it."

Can't Match Offers

Another diplomat told a reporter: "They know public attacks on the plan are not enough and that they must themselves offer some positive program if they hope to continue holding the spotlight with the Arab nations." The Kremlin is desperately seeking something more effective than a mere propaganda fight, the diplomats said.

They agreed that, despite boasts of prosperity, the Soviet Union is in no condition to match U. S. offers of economic help in the Middle East.

12 Are Feared Dead as Plane Crashes, Explodes

Fairbanks, Alaska, Jan. 17 (AP)—A four-engine air force weather reconnaissance plane crashed and exploded into flames shortly after its takeoff from Eielson Air Force Base early today.

The WB29 planes normally carry a crew of 12 on their weather flights.

A witness said it appeared unlikely that anyone could have survived the crash and the ensuing inferno.

The weather plane was one of the converted models of the Boeing B29 superfortress of World War 2.

The crash occurred about three miles from Eielson. The base is about 26 miles southeast of this central Alaska city.

Mrs. Jeanne Thomas Jones, who operates the Moose Creek Lodge near the crash scene, said there was "a great red flash" when the plane struck. She said she doubted there could have been any survivors.

The plane did not appear to have been airborne long enough to allow any of the crew a chance to parachute, even if they had warning of impending disaster.

Fyi

El Cajon, Calif. (AP)—This entry appeared on the desk log at police headquarters: "4:50 a. m. —Officer Jones reports that fire truck from nearby La Cresta is parked in front of Buckboard tavern and driver is 'sleeping it off.' This entry for information in case any inquiries received."

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 17 (AP)—The stock market declined early this afternoon, failing to hold an early gain.

Pivotal issues fell fractions to 1 or 2 points. Selected issues here and there posted gains in about the same range.

The market was higher in active trading at the opening. It soon turned mixed, however, and as the session went on prices worsened on increased turnover.

A report that the Federal Reserve Board has indicated it would continue its restrictive policies was one factor that dampened optimism. A reported decline in automobile production was another.

Steels and aircrafts, which made some fair gains in opening transactions, were actively traded as they took losses later on. Overall trading was moderate.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were mixed in moderate trading.

Corporate bonds rose in quiet trading.

U. S. government bonds improved in quiet dealings over the counter.

DeKay Reelected YMCA President

G. Herbert DeKay was elected president of the YMCA board of directors to succeed himself at a meeting held Tuesday evening.

Other officers elected to succeed themselves were: Clifford G. Smith, vice president; Robert C. Murray, treasurer and C. Sloat Rowland Jr., was elected to succeed James E. Tobin as secretary. A unanimous ballot was cast by the secretary. A. L. Harder, in the absence of John Haulenbeck, was chairman of the nominating committee.

Mr. DeKay said a complete list of committees and their chairmen would be mailed to all members.

Two new members were welcomed to the board of directors, H. Irving Etchells and Victor E. Fletcher.

Louis H. Schafer, executive secretary of the YMCA, announced that the state convention will be held in Syracuse April 6-7.

What Ike Missed On Tour Adds Up To U. S. Problem

Dallas, Jan. 17 (AP)—President Eisenhower saw crippling damage on his hour and a quarter, ground-level inspection of Texas drouth land this week; what he couldn't see in full is the human side of the drouth, and that adds up to a national problem.

For instance: He couldn't see farmers borrowing money for tractor fuel to keep their land from blowing away, once-proud farmers accepting relief packages for their families, or the procession of young men going broke and leaving their farms for city jobs.

Missed Privation

Nor could he, by the limitations of time and distance, gain an insight into the privation brought in by the 750 million dollar drouth loss suffered last year by Texas farmers alone.

State Agriculture Commissioner John White said today that the 750 millions are hard, specific figures based on production losses.

"That doesn't," he said, "include rangeland deterioration—you can't put that in dollars and cents. And it doesn't include the losses from premature sale of market cattle. And it doesn't include the losses caused by sale of foundation herds at less than replacement costs."

Amateur and professional comedians think highly of their jokes about rich Texans. Their witticisms fall with a mushy thud before dryland farmers who haven't harvested a decent crop in years.

Economic Contrast

It's a state—at the moment—of sharp economic contrast.

On the one hand, most cities are booming with their new industries, oil and oil-related wealth. Year-end surveys show excellent business gains year after year since World War 2 in the oil centers dotted about Texas, the oil-chemical-industrial gulf coast area and industrial-financial north Texas.

On the other hand are the dryland farmer and small town businessman who depend on the farmers' purchases, neither of whom are doing well.

Stores Empty

The plight of the Texas small towns, which have not been rescued by oil or industry were cited in reports presented the President. But he didn't see the locked store entrances or the business places empty of customers.

Seven years of almost continuous drouth have depleted the resources of many farmers, and the President heard a great deal of the need for cheap and easy federal credit. But he couldn't see exactly what it's needed for.

One great need is to prevent farm destruction by wind erosion—the weather phenomenon that results in great dust storms.

Spare That Tree

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Roast beef and steak, two hearty mid-winter meats, will be featured in many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this weekend.

Rib roasts seem to be the most popular cuts in the beef line, although chuck roast, pot roast and ground beef also will be specials in some stores. The steaks to be advertised in feature positions are sirloin and porterhouse.

Pork Going Up

Ham and lamb also will get some play in scattered stores, but most cuts of pork are vanishing from the bargain counter. One chain's meat expert, featuring pork loins, said the firm's pork costs went up 6½ cents a pound, and added that this would be the last pork special for a while in the chain's stores.

Low supplies of pork are the reason for the high prices—pork-on-the-hoof in Chicago is reported 50 per cent above last year's admittedly low prices.

The housewives' cost for pork may dip seasonally in early spring, when marketings of fall-born pigs reach a peak, but by summer prices are expected to climb again.

The slaughtering of cattle, on the other hand, is not expected to fall much below last year, and may actually rise if, contined severe drouth forces liquidation of herds.

Good Vegetable Buys

Outstanding buys at store vegetable counters this week are the root crops still available in many sections from nearby fields—carrots, beets, parsnips, cabbage and turnips.

Western carrots and new cabbage from western or southern fields are rated good buys by produce men, along with beans, lettuce, endive, escarole, sweet potatoes and peppers.

Onions are getting more expensive now, as is customary during the winter, but they still are good buys in most places, the experts say. Celery, on the other hand, is coming down in price as Florida supplies start coming to market, but the crunchy vegetable is not yet rated a good buy. Florida's crop is estimated as 5 per cent bigger than last year's.

Red Potatoes Arrive

Storage potatoes from the Maine fall crop also are moderately priced in most places. Supplies of new, red potatoes are starting to trickle in from Florida, but are light so far.

Another newcomer to markets now is hothouse rhubarb from Michigan, although market men say it's on the high side of a good buy.

The citrus trio of oranges, grapefruit and tangerines head the bargain list of fruits, although nearby, ripe apples are still attractively priced in some sections. Cantaloupes, which used to be strictly a summer item, are available in limited quantities in some places, but they're mostly a luxury item. They're shipped in from Mexico for the most part.

FAMILY HARMONY—Mrs. Katherine Assante, 35, New York City's Polio Mother of the Year, joins in a songfest with her children, Denise, 8, and Armand, 7. Paralyzed in arms and legs seven years ago, Mrs. Assante overcame her affliction enough to take care of the children and do her housework.

Report on Project

Announcement was made that four large boxes of assorted toys, a baby carriage and 90 dolls were delivered to the Church of All Nations, a Methodist project on the lower east side in New York, as a result of a six-week project of the Kris Kringle Kraft Club, a Senior MYF organization.

A five-week teacher's training course will be started Friday, Jan. 25, at 7:30 p. m. and continuing for the next four Fridays at Boiceville Church school. These courses, open to persons 15 years of age or over, will be conducted by Dr. and Mrs. Howard D. McGrath. Dr. McGrath is the executive secretary of the New York Conference Boards of Educations and Missions.

Mrs. McGrath is the New York conference secretary of Child Work. Dr. McGrath will conduct the course entitled "Teaching Youth in the Small Church" while Mrs. McGrath will supervise the course "Teaching Children in the Small Church."

Upon completion of the course a card of recognition will be issued to each student who has fulfilled conditions of the courses.

Church Services

The regular midweek service for the charge will be held tonight, 7:30 o'clock, at the Glenford Church.

On Sunday, Jan. 20, services of worship will be held in Ashokan at 9:30 a. m., West Hurley 10:45 a. m. and Glenford 2:30 p. m. The Rev. Richard R. Guice, pastor, will be in charge. His topic will be "The Hasty Heart." Sunday evening service will be at 7 o'clock.

Also on Sunday, Jan. 20 at the Ashokan Church, WSG Sunday will be observed. There will be recognition of the roll of women in the church as part of the Guild observance.

At the recent quarterly conference, Dr. D. George Davies, Kingston District superintendent, conducted the conference business.

Opening lead—♣ K

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The play at all tables of today's hand in a duplicate game started the same way. Clubs were opened and continued with South trumping the third lead.

South promptly cashed his ace and king of trumps and led his singleton diamond toward dummy's king-jack combination. When West ducked, the king was played and the contract made. When West rose with the ace of diamonds the hand was down one.

In all instances except one West had to guess about this play. When J. Edward Morrow of Joplin, Mo., held the East cards he was able to play his trumps in such manner that Mrs. Morrow sitting West was able to read him for a sure spade trick. Hence, Mrs. Morrow had no problem at all about going up with her diamond ace.

Put yourself in Jed's place and see if you have a definite method to show the spade trick.

He simply dropped the queen of spades under the ace and then played the ten spot under the king. This play of the queen first would have been silly if he did not hold the jack. Hence, Mrs. Morrow knew that her husband held the jack, and her play of the diamond ace was automatic.

Rainiers Select Names for Child

Monte Carlo, Jan. 17 (AP)—If it's a boy, Prince Rainier and Princess Grace are going to name him Gregoire.

A girl will be called Caroline, Prince Rainier told a news conference today.

The other names of the prince will be Georges Pierre Richard.

The other names for a girl will be Louise Marguerite.

The names are all French and traditional in Monaco's reigning family, the Grimaldis. No names were chosen to honor Grace's Irish - extraction family, the Kellys of Philadelphia.

Birth Due Soon

The baby is expected in the next few days.

The prince said the delivery would take place inside the palace and not at the local hospital. The expectant father said the chief doctor, Paris gynecologist Emil Herve, had decided this was "completely possible."

"I was born myself in the palace as many other members of my family were," Rainier added.

The prince said that whatever the American law might be, he considered his first child would be "uniquely Monacan" and not an American citizen.

He announced the godparents would be his cousin Prince George Festetics, a 17-year-old Hungarian now living in Vienna, and 12-year-old Margaret Davis, a daughter of Princess Grace's elder sister.

Both Had Part

Asked who chose the names, the prince smiled but refused to be drawn into a family argument.

"We both did," he said. "I gave several names and she gave several names and we compromised."

Reports Unrest In Ukraine

Berlin, Jan. 17 (AP) — The West Berlin newspaper Telegraf today reported widespread student unrest in the Ukraine. It said Russian tanks were called in to put down a demonstration in Kiev, the capital.

In a dispatch from Vienna quoting Hungarian refugees, the newspaper said the Ukraine unrest was similar to what reportedly erupted in Moscow, Leningrad and Riga. The dispatch also reported that 50 students and two professors have been arrested in Stalingrad.

Jury Will Hear Marie's Story

Los Angeles, Jan. 17 (AP) — Marie McDonald tells her kidnaping story to the county grand jury today.

British actor Michael Wilding, her escort of recent months, also has been subpoenaed to tell what he knows of it. So have 13 other persons, including her former husband, shoe magnate Harry Karl, and her mother, Mrs. Marie Turboni.

Presumably "The Body," as the shapely blonde has been tagged by press agents, will be asked to explain "glaring inconsistencies" in her accounts of the crime.

A grand jury spokesman, who refused to be identified by name, said there appear to be such inconsistencies. The jury had seen two films and heard a reading of her 47-page statement to police when the spokesman said yesterday:

"The films are mutually inconsistent, and the statements in the films and the re-enactments in the films are inconsistent with themselves."

Costly Cop

Albany, Ga. (AP)—Traffic Officer E. H. Jeter wrote out parking violation tickets for three cars in a row which were beside meters showing time expired. Only when he got back to headquarters and turned in his duplicate tickets did he realize one of the cars was his own. It cost him the usual $1.

More Witnesses Are Summoned in British Murder

Eastbourne, England, Jan. 17 (AP)—Scotland Yard today summoned a long list of witnesses in an attempt to prove that society Dr. John Bodkin Adams drove a rich widow to suicide.

The preliminary hearing on a murder charge filed against the pudgy medic went into its fourth day in his seaside Victorian resort where the deaths of numerous rich old ladies have turned into one of Britain's most fascinating mysteries of the century.

Officially, Adams is accused only of murdering 81-year-old Mrs. Edith Morrell to profit from her will. But Prosecutor Melford Stevenson said he would also prove in court that the 260-pound, soft-talking doctor got Mrs. Gertrude J. Hullett to taking drugs, then gave her enough bartiturates to kill a horse.

Greed too Great

"We say that Dr. Adams' greed was too great to permit him to wait," Stevenson declared. "That is why he killed Mrs. Hullett when he did."

Scotland Yard's murder squad says Dr. Adams got 1,000 pounds ($2,800) and a Rolls Royce from Mrs. Hullett.

"She died in circumstances which the Crown says amounted to murder by Dr. Adams," Stevenson asserted.

Mrs. Hullette, a comely widow of 50, died July 25 last year, four months after the death of her wealthy husband.

Husband Died First

Scotland Yard maintains that Dr. Adams first knocked off the aged, ailing husband with a lethal dose of morphine, received 500 pounds ($1,400) from his will, and then turned his attention to the widow.

"The doctor had prescribed large quantities of barbitone for her," said the prosecutor, "and had embarked on a course of drugs for her which has led to her death.

"She had never been dangerously ill. After her husband's death she was shocked because she had been devoted to him."

The dinner is scheduled to begin at 6:45 p. m. with the business meeting slated to get underway about 8 p. m.

Assisting with arrangements for tonight's dinner have been Mrs. Janet Jones and Mrs. George Matthews, kitchen; Mrs. Dorcas Woolsey, Miss Doris Harvey, Mrs. Jones and Arthur T. Pedersen, dining room.

The annual election of officers including both trustees and other officials, will take place during the business session. Copies of annual reports from the various church officers will be distributed in booklet form.

Members who are not attending the supper are requested to attend the business meeting.

Dear Chet:

Many thanks for taking the 102 dinette sets off our hands. As you know, we have moved our upholstery department to larger quarters because of our expanding business and we badly needed the room these sets occupied.

By taking them off our hands during Christmas week and eliminating the moving costs, we were able to offer you the BEST PRICE IN OUR HISTORY.

Standard's customers are indeed fortunate to get in on such a sensational deal, particularly in view of generally rising prices.

Sincerely,
Irving Pirofsky, Pres.

Chances Better to Block Phone Hike: Milmoe

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 17 (AP)—Sen. Wheeler S. Milmoe says chances "look better" this year for enactment of legislation to block the New York Telephone Company's bid for $55,400,000-a-year rate increase.

The Canastota Republican said yesterday, however, that the GOP majority leaders had given him no assurance that the bill he introduced would get party backing.

Milmoe was a co-sponsor of a similar measure that was killed by the powerful Senate Finance Committee on the last day of the 1956 session.

He said that earlier introduction of the bill this year would give necessary time for discussion. The co-sponsor is Assemblyman Frank J. McMullen of of Brooklyn.

The Democratic minority leaders, Sen. Joseph Zaretzki and Assemblyman Eugene F. Bannigan, also introduced a bill to prevent the rate boost.

Two Lack Votes

Their measure had the support of Gov. Harriman but they lack the votes to put it through. The wording of both measures is the same.

The Telephone Company has asked the Public Service Commission for permission to raise its monthly rates on private home phones by 50 cents, on party-line residential phones by 65 cents and on business phones by $1.50.

Harriman has said "urgent action" is needed to forestall what he has termed "unwarranted rate increases at the expense of the consumers and businesses."

The PSC, in a memorandum accompanying the GOP legislation, declared that its enactment "would eliminate the cause of protracted delays in the rate-making process."

The PSC in 1954 rejected the company's request for a multi-million dollar rate increase. New York Telephone went to court.

Case Ordered Reopened

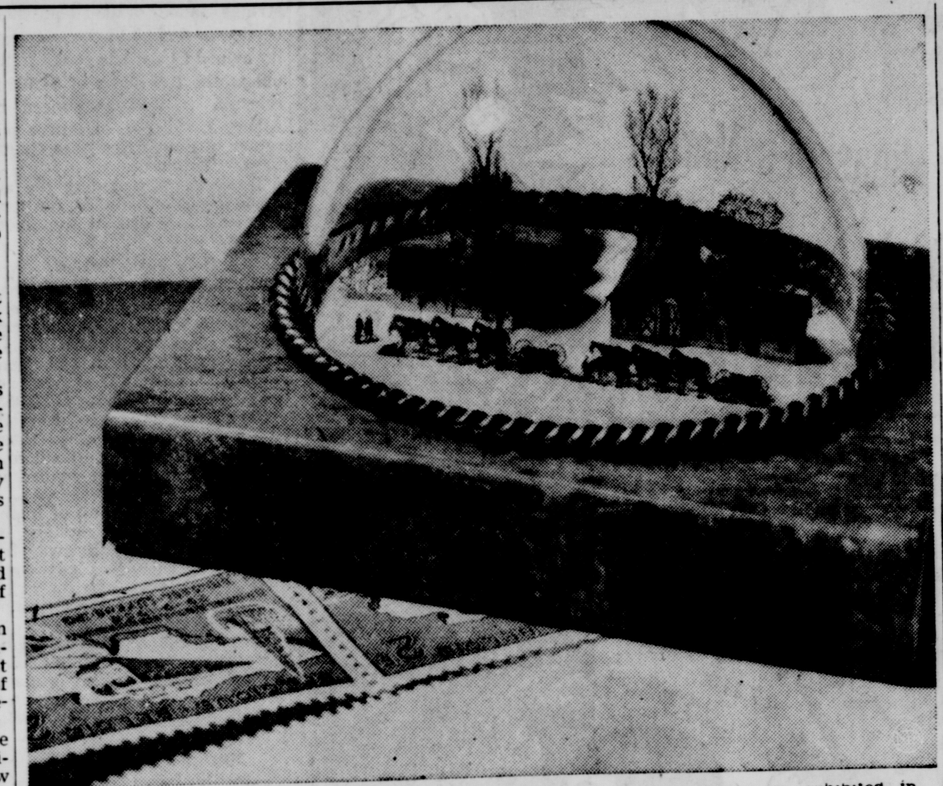

The Court of Appeals held that the commission had erred in refusing to accept evidence on the replacement value of company property. It ordered the PSC to reopen the case.

Under terms of the Public Service law, the commission, in computing rate schedules, is required to consider original cost of facilities of all utilities, except telephone companies and railroads. The new measures would place these utilities on the same footing as the others.

In a joint statement yesterday, Milmoe and McMullen said passage of the bill would "correct a legal inequity . . . under which telephone and railroad companies are given preferential treatment" on rates.

Chambers Home Burned

Westminster, Md., Jan. 17 (AP)—Whittaker Chambers and wife, their farmhouse of "pumpkin papers" fame damaged by fire yesterday, were staying with relatives today and until the 12-room home can be repaired. A fire, blamed on a defective chimney, gutted the attic and heavily damaged a bedroom on the second floor. Chambers and his wife, neither of whom have been in good health, carried most of their furniture outside in the snow and sub-freezing temperatures with the help of neighbors.

Hollywood Bids Farewell to Bogart

Beverly Hills, Calif., Jan. 17 (AP)—Friends of Humphrey Bogart, the unconventional actor, are saying "So long, Bogie," but in the conventional, respectful way at the funeral services today.

A brief service at All Saints Episcopal Church at 12:30 p. m. will be conducted by the Rev. Kermit Castellanos, associate rector.

The eulogy has been written and will be read by Bogart's friend and director, John Huston. Cremation will follow, the ashes to be placed in a crypt at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in nearby Glendale.

Six of Bogie's close friends will serve as ushers at the church services. They are actor David Niven, director Nunnally Johnson, restaurateur Mike Romanoff, producer Leland Hayward, agent Irving Paul Lazar and yachtsman Larry Dudley.

Child Health Clinic

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the Clinic Rooms, 25 East O'Reilly street, Tuesday, 9:15 to 10:55 a. m. These clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

Saugerties Needs Yule Light Quota To Finish Project

It will not be possible to purchase center-pieces, additional strings and other equipment needed to complete the community owned Christmas street lights unless the full quota of $4,100 is reached, it was announced by Albert J. Cawein, executive secretary of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce.

These items including the addition of colored bulbs for next year are included in the quota figures.

Only Half Raised

To date a little more than half of the amount has been raised by direct mail subscription to the mailing list of all businesses in the area and former donors. The total amount received from 120 donors is $2,058.

Over a week ago 160 reminder cards were mailed to those who have failed to respond and only 10 of these have mailed in contributions.

Last Sunday a group of members dismantled the strings of lights and stored them away for next year. This does not complete the project—bills for bulbs wire, garland and other equipment must be paid.

Many of the regular contributors names are still missing from the list. An urgent plea is made to these to take a few minutes to mail in contributions as quickly as possible.

More Strings Possible

Those businesses who did not have strings on their streets are also urged to support this program in order that good faith may be shown for future years when additional strings will be added.

When originally discussed, the possibility of installing 30 strings throughout the village was outlined. However, this is not possible if money cannot be raised for only 12 strings.

Flight Speeds of 3,000 Miles an Hour Seen

Detroit, Jan. 17 (AP)—Aircraft engineers were told today they must expect airplane and missile speeds of 3,000 miles an hour and more and that these supersonic speeds create new problems of design and manufacture.

They were also told that test pilots now have to work with engineers in designing and developing new aircraft because they can be built too fast to handle.

The views were presented in papers prepared for consideration at group meetings of the Society of Automotive Engineers midwinter convention.

George R. Keller and Paris H. Stafford, of North American Aviation, Inc., describing future speed potentialities of aircraft, said the first of the technical problems created was adequate sealing to assure retention of liquids and gases wihout serious loss. The second, they added, was accelerating the "conversion of ideas into hardware."

Anthony W. LeVier, a test pilot for Lockheed Aircraft Corp., described what he called "a simple high speed run in a new supersonic fighter." In 11 to 12 minutes, he said, such a test run could cover a ground distance equivalent to a day's travel by automobile.

LeVier said that continuing attempts to build faster planes that go higher take aircraft and pilots into new frontiers.

ILA Asks President For Facts Committee

New York, Jan. 17 (AP)—The International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) has appealed to President Eisenhower to appoint a fact-finding commission in the union's dispute with Port of New York waterfront employers.

ILA counsel Louis Waldman yesterday released copies of a telegram to the President, asking that a commission be set up to bring the facts in the case to him and the nation.

Later in the day, representatives of the ILA and of the New York Shipping Assn., which represents 170 shipping and stevedoring companies, held a two-hour negotiating session.

There was no indication of progress since Tuesday, when federal mediators reported the situation looked hopeless.

Pale Colors Lead Style Parade

Pale and pastel colors glide into spring in both daytime and dressy fashions. Skirt in pale blue (left) has side pleat that starts at the knee. Stand-away pocket provides interesting detail with its hand-tailored arrow darts. Fabric is estron acetate and rayon. Dress and coat with high waistline (center) are in blue, the fabric a pebbled chromspun acetate weave. Dress has its own wide petticoat of tiered net ruffles. A third pastel (right) appears in this slim skirt with set-in side panel. This is in pink. Fabric is a blend of estron acetate and rayon, a combination that sheds wrinkles.

BY GAILE DUGAS, NEA Wom- en's Editor

New York (NEA)—Color gets a new slant for spring in shades both pale and vivid.

There's no doubt about the importance of the violet shades both in ready-to-wear and in accessories. Gray, a pale shade, is also a big color this year and lends itself beautifully to accessories in sharp or muted colors.

There's a new emphasis on the pastels—the very pale blues and pinks and beiges — an emphasis usually not felt until summer. These, like gray, will continue into summer, of course, helped out by white, which looks particularly good for evening wear.

The off-beat color combinations are many this year. A good example is pink-and-red. Red takes on a bluish tone for spring-into-summer and there are many blue-greens to choose from.

Taupe is a member of the brown family that keeps important company with beige, particularly in the accessory field.

Pastels are not, this year, confined to evening. They're good the clock around and in sportswear, too.

Spring Eve All Chiffon

Chiffon floats in for spring evenings in romantic dresses, the length short or long. Ceil Chapman does the long version (left) in shocking pink silk chiffon sheath with back-dipping skirt, low and round back neckline and back panel that trails gracefully. Adele Simpson does the short chiffon dress (right) in seafoam green silk chiffon with draped neckline and cummerbund.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

New York—(NEA)—If there's a yard of chiffon left in New York, some designer is probably cutting it into an evening gown for spring.

It's unquestionably the top fabric for spring evenings this year. It floats and drifts in dresses that are either long or short. Both lengths are shown with some slight emphasis on 13, 10 and even eight-inch hems for dinner and evening dresses.

Softness is typical of spring's evening gowns. Draped cowl necklines, cummerbund treatments for the waistline, and sidedraped skirts all carry out this softer mood.

Most dance dresses stress a higher waistline look through raised midriff treatments. These make a pretty contrast for wide and drifting skirts or attached panels that float as the wearer walks.

Both pale and vibrant shades are used for evening this year, with the delicate shades of pink blue and yellow taking on importance. New colors added for spring are sea green, peach and dove gray.

Suggests Lottery

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 17 (AP)—A legalized city lottery to raise funds to pay increases to city employes was advocated by the Very Rev. Msgr. William P. Solleder, editor-in-chief of the Union & Echo, official newspaper of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Buffalo. Msgr. Solleder, in his regular weekly column scheduled for publication in next Sunday's issue, also suggested a national lottery. He pointed out that everyone wants salary increases and added benefits but said he felt additional taxes on business were not the way to go about it. "But," he observed, "the money must come from some place."

Extremely high heels should be kept for "sitting shoes" only. No woman looks her best teetering along the street on stilts. And very high heels throw your body out of balance. There's a happy compromise in the shaped mid-heel.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

TOO HOSPITABLE

A reader asks: "Will you please write something in your column to the hostesses who keep urging guests to taste this, that or the other thing by saying, 'Oh, you simply must try this, it is very delicious.' I am trying very hard to diet and it makes it very difficult to refuse when the hostess is so persistent and I usually wind up eating something that I am not supposed to just because it is awkward to keep saying 'No, thank you.' I am sure many of your other readers have come up against this same problem and a word from you would, I feel sure, help a great deal."

Your situation is far from unusual, and when you are the victim of your hostess' excess of hospitality, the only advice I can give you is to say: "Oh, I would love some, but my doctor's orders are very strict."

A Belated Anniversary

Dear Mrs. Post: Two years ago my husband and I had planned to have a party on our silver wedding anniversary. However, shortly before this my husband's father died and plans for the party canceled. The following year when it came time to think about celebrating our anniversary again, something else happened and we could not have the party. Now, two years later, we would still like to celebrate our anniversary. Would it be proper to have a belated silver anniversary at this time, or is it too late to do anything?

Answer: If all your friends understand the situation, I see no reason why you may not have a belated celebration.

A handbag on the Dance Floor

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it in bad taste for a young woman to take her handbag with her onto the dance floor? Will you please answer this as much controversy has arisen over it?

Answer: A large daytime bag or leather would be as out of place as galoshes on a dance floor. A small evening bag of velvet or brocade can easily be held in her left hand, as it rests on his arm.

Should a lady offer her hand when greeting friends or being introduced? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her leaflet E-17, "Introductions," answers this question. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, PO Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

(Released by The Bell Syndicate Inc.)

When you're buying a soft-shell pump (which means it has no boxing, only a soft leather lining), buy it a half size smaller than your regular shoe size. Otherwise, when it loosens up a bit, it will be too large.

Mrs. Joseph Glocker Feted at Shower

Mrs. Joseph Glocker of Stone Ridge was the guest of honor at a surprise stork shower given by members of the Stone Ridge Methodist Church.

The event was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Lansing Hunt, Stone Ridge.

Present were the Mmes Roscoe Lockwood, Edward Schoonmaker, Claire Lockwood, Ernest Howard, Arthur Lawrence, Norton Lawrence, Lansing Hunt, Clifford Basten, Jerry Krom, Richard Mack, Oliver Bogart, Fred Worden, Elina Becker, George I. Goodwin and Joseph Glocker.

"Quality Is Remembered Long After Price Is Forgotten"

Degree Credit Is To Be Given for Geography on TV

Schenectady, N. Y., Jan. 17 (AP) —A commercial station here will carry the state's first televised college course offering degree credit.

"Introductory Geography" will be shown in half-hour programs three times weekly from Feb. 4 to May 27 on WRGB-TV, which is owned by the General Electric Co.

Also participating will be the State University of New York and the Mohawk-Hudson Council on Educational Television.

Selected high school seniors will view the program in their own schools. The geography course carries two credits.

The participation organizations said in an announcement yesterday that credits could be applied to undergraduate degrees in schools of the State University and possibly in other colleges, depending on individual policy.

Adults May Qualify

The television station said "qualified" adults who view the program at home also could apply for credits.

The procedure in the adult program was not specified in a preliminary announcement yesterday.

The program also will be seen on station WPTZ, Plattsburgh, which will receive it by microwave relay for telecast in northern New York.

Important Trial

Gov. Harriman said in congratulatory telegrams yesterday to the participating groups and stations that "this is an important experiment with obvious implications for education generally."

The initial course will be taught by Dr. Howard H. Flierl, associate professor of geography in the department of social studies, Albany State Teachers College.

The course concerns population distribution and relationships between man and his physical environment.

Examinations will be administered by the participating high schools and corrected at the college.

Foul Play

Olympia, Wash. (AP)—It wasn't so much the theft of a his homecanned fruit and vegetables that irked Leo Grunenfelder; it was that the burglar or burglars switched padlocks on his garage door. "The least they could do," Grunenfelder commented, "would be to drop by and leave me the key so I wouldn't have to break into my own garage." They didn't.

FOR THE BIRDS — Strictly for the birds is this get-up worn by British actress Ann Taylor at the National Exhibition of Cage Birds in London. She has a Bird of Paradise on her head, a canary perched in her earring and a parakeet on her hand. No danger of their flying away—they're all stuffed.

Whales, like other mammals, can drown if they get water in their lungs.

Red Paper Says U. S. Gave Cover To Egypt Attack

Moscow, Jan. 17 (AP) — Soviet Fleet, the navy newspaper, charged today that British-French forces invaded Egypt last November "under the cover of U. S. naval and air protection."

Soviet propaganda, seeking to tar the United States with the same brush of "aggression" that it has used on Britain and France, kept its campaign going against U. S. Middle East policies.

Soviet Fleet said the operation against Egypt was a "complex collusion of colonialists" and the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean "played a sinister role in preparing and unleashing the aggression."

Izvestia also charged that the United States was one of the powers that put the Suez Canal out of commission, and therefore has no right now to claim any privileges in use of the canal.

Neither Soviet Fleet's nor Izvestia's charges were explained. Units of the U. S. 6th Fleet were in the eastern Mediterranean area during the British-French attack. They were engaged in evcuating Americans from danger areas.

State Roads Are Bound to Damage Farms: Harriman

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 17 (AP)—Gov. Harriman says state highway construction is bound to infringe on farms.

He told the 125th annual dinner of the State Agricultural Society last night that highway planners would try to keep such damage to a minimum.

Last week, J. Sloat Welles of Big Flats said his 165-year-old farm was being ruined by road construction. He refused to attend the Agricultural Society's dinner to receive from Harriman an award in recognition of the Welles family's longtime cultivation of the same land.

Harriman told the dinner he had called for designation of an agriculture department advisor in public works department planning of highway routes in farm areas.

The governor said the state customarily offered to pay farmers whose land was split by highway construction 90 to 95 per cent of the full market value of the severed portion and let the farmer keep the land.

The Public Works Department said Tuesday it was negotiating damages with Welles. It also said the farmer had received $10,000 selling gravel to the contractor who built the road through the farmland.

The award spurned by Welles was established for families who have cultivated the same land for five generations or more.

The citation went to Mr. and Mrs. James Walkely of Leroy and Oscar and Gordon Concklin of Pomona.

Briefly Told

Schenectady, N. Y., Jan. 17 (AP) —Three teen-agers accused of bomb hoaxes have been denied treatment as youthful offenders and must face jury trials.

Police Court Justice Louis J. Rinaldi yesterday ordered separate trials next month for Oliver Pinter Jr., 17, Juris Vancans, 17, and Sylvia Polak, 16.

Pinter and Vancans pleaded innocent Jan. 9 to a bomb hoax that caused emptying of one high school Jan. 4. The girl also pleaded innocent last week to a charge of a bomb scare that emptied another high school the same day.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 17 (AP) — Justice James B. M. McNally of State Supreme Court has been designated an associate justice of the Appellate Division's first department.

Gov. Harriman named the 60-year-old New York city jurist yesterday to a term ending Dec. 31, 1958. The first department comprises Manhattan and the Bronx.

McNally succeeds Justice Joseph A. Cox, who resigned. Appellate Division justices in the first department receive $32,000 a year.

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP)—The Community Facilities Administration today announced approval of a $260,000 loan to Keuka College, Keuka Park, N. Y., to finance construction of a dormitory for 60 women students and two supervisors.

Jamestown, N. Y., Jan. 17 (AP) —Operations were resumed today at the washing machine division of the Blackstone Corp. following settlement of a 22-week-old strike.

Company officials and representatives of Lodge 1240, International Assn. of Machinists, announced last night an agreement on wage provisions of a new contract.

The terms of the new contract, however, were not disclosed.

About 70 employes in the division were affected by the strike.

Dunkirk, N. Y., Jan. 17 (AP)— A strike by members of a United Steel Workers Union has idled more than 1,000 employes at the Alco Products Inc. plant here.

The strike was called by Local 2286 of the union reportedly in protest against the firing of a union member.

The unit represents more than 950 production workers at the plant.

About 190 clerical workers in another USW local refused to cross picket lines.

SHINES AT HIS WORK — Ninety-four-year-old Peter Conomos, of Boston, Mass., says he's the nation's oldest active shoe-shine "boy." Born in Sparta, Greece, in 1863, he has been "shining 'em up" for the past 18 years.

Arson Ruled Out In Syracuse Fire

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan 17 (AP)—Fire Marshal John Dacey says he has ruled out arson in a million-dollar fire that wrecked a downtown church and publishing plant here.

A second church and two other buildings were damaged in the fire Tuesday night.

Checking Blowtorches

Dacey said yesterday he was investigating the possibility the fire may have been started by plumbers' blowtorches. He said they were being used to thaw waterpipes in the basement of the First Methodist Church, which was gutted.

A nearby building housing the Wesleyan Methodist Publishing Assn. also was wrecked. The Wesleyan Methodist Publishing two office buildings were damaged.

The First Methodist Church contained the headquarters of the Central New York Methodist conference.

Would Raze Walls

Director George Hebert of the Bureau of Buildings yesterday recommended that walls of the ruined church and publishing plant be razed as a safety measure.

He also asked that the 55-foot bell tower of the gutted church be torn down. Hebert said church members might ask, however, that the steeple be left standing so a new structure could be built around it.

The First Methodist Church estimated its loss at $800,000. Dr. F. R. Eddy, publisher-secretary of the Publishing Association, said his company's loss was about $250,000.

Economy Drive

Green Bay, Wis. (AP)—Brown County Sheriff-elect Artley Skenandore told the county board he would like 10 new squad cars—a heavier type than those now in use. "I noticed, Skenandore said, that about 75 per cent of you board members were driving heavier-type automobiles as you parked in the courthouse yard. I believe each of you is looking for economy." Purchase of 10 heavier squad cars was approved, 44-6.

Check Car Fire

Firemen were called at 7:22 a. m. today to check a fire at Catherine and Gill streets in a 1946 sedan, owned by Paul Jones, of 249 East Union street. The cause was listed as a short circuit. Engine 2 and Union Hose Co., responded.

PLAYTIME POSTPONED—The sign on door of Altamont, Ill., home of seven-year-old Greg Cox is self explanatory. However, his friend, Jon Douglas, six, can't read and comes knocking. Greg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Cox, posted the sign but it isn't working out too well because most of his playmates are too young to read. (AP Wirephoto)

Happy Times

Elderly Persons Still Must Depend on Themselves

By BEULAH STOWE

When you are young you develop that admirable personal quality known as—oh, no, not conceit—but self-esteem. You need some, too, or you would never live to grow old.

When you are old self-esteem may turn into selfishness or at least your children may say it looks like selfishness.

The older person is more turned in upon himself, his needs, his health, his memories, than most younger people.

He isn't selfish. In many cases he is not busy enough. Or he may be in poor health to a degree where his interests and activities are necessarily more limited than they ever were before. "Self" will crowd back into the mind which is not filled with others.

There's another name for this apparent selfishness of old people, too: self-preservation.

All too often the son or the daughter is perfectly content to have Mama or Papa go live in a little apartment or a little room or a big old peoples' home or with Aunt Agnes. Just so Papa and Mama don't live with them; don't tell them how to raise their children; how to wash their floors or repair their cars; or remind them of how lucky young people are nowadays.

Then the older person realizes that nobody cares about him except him. And he'd better take care of himself. This is self-preservation.

All of these considerations are related to the concept of self-hood, described by Ethel Sabin Smith in "The Dynamics of Aging." As Mrs. Smith says, "From where we sit, inside ourselves, we are still young."

The 80-year-old woman who looks in the mirror sees also that self which was once 16 years old and went to square dances in a country town; the 80-year-old man sees also the chairman of the board which he once was but is no more. The lifetime of each is still part of "self."

Older people need to feel important today as well as yesterday. They need self-esteem today. They need mature attitudes toward their today's problems, just as much as they needed to act like grown-up men and women in their 40's. They need reassurance from younger people who are still in the stream of life. If older people fail to grasp, or to attract, these elements, self-esteem will turn to selfishness, and selfishness will turn to self-preservation.

Q—"My husband is 64 years old and will be retired next year from a Social Security-covered job. I am only 58, but I have never worked or held a Social Security card. Do I need to go to work to collect Social Security when I am 62?"—A. B.

A—No. By virtue of your husband's earnings and payment into the Social Security plan, you can receive a payment when you reach 62. Be sure and apply for it at your District Social Security Office at that time. Don't expect them to check the records and bake you a birthday cake.

4 May Be Dead In Gas Explosions

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 17 (AP)—Two rapid-fire explosions in a city gas line leveled a house and a two-story building last night, killing two persons. Two others were missing and believed dead. Five other persons were injured.

Killed by the blasts and subsequent fire were Perry Traub, 40, operator of a grocery in the building, and John J. Heitzman, 61, owner of both the building and the house.

Heitzman's son-in-law, Robert J. Einfeldt, about 45, and Einfeldt's son, Robert, Jr., 11, were believed dead in the charred rubble. Police, using bulldozer tractors, searched the debris for their bodies.

Einfeldt's other son, Kenneth, 8, and Heitzman's wife, Opal, 60, escaped from the house after the blasts. Mrs. Heitzman suffered severe burns and cuts and her condition was described as "serious" by hospital authorities. The boy was only slightly injured.

Why We Say--

IMPORTANT PAPERS: Any government worker might easily define this word. But few would agree with the true meaning. Red tape started in England as a way of tying up important papers. It then spread to the government, where a frequent excuse for lack of action was that a bill was tied up in a package with red tape and was unavailable.

This "pearl necklace" story has been told at one time or another about every big department store in the country, although most narrators insist angrily that it happened "to their own cousin."

A lady and her daughter are sauntering down Fifth avenue. In front of Tiffany's the young girl's "pearl necklace" breaks, and the pearls roll all over the street. She reclaims them, and suggests giving them to Tiffany's for stringing.

"We can't ask Tiffany's to restring things like that," protests the mother. "After all, the whole necklace cost only $12.98 at Blank's." Anyhow, they enter Tiffany's. The man at the repair desk takes one look at the loose pearls, asks to be excused for a moment, and returns with the general manager, who offers the startled lady fifty thousand dollars for the lot.

The explanation? The president of Blank's has smuggled in the strand of pearls for his wife by hiding them with a shipment of cheap imitations addressed to the store's bargain jewelry department. The special marking on the real pearls has been lost, and the strand mixed up with all the others. The honest lady brings them to Blank's just in time to clear the saleswoman, who has been accused by the president of stealing the pearls for her own purposes.

Of course, a story like this could have happened in real life. Reasonable odds against it: 4000 to 1.

A shipwrecked sailor who had spent three years on a desert island was overjoyed one day to see a ship drop anchor in the bay. A small boat came ashore and an officer handed the sailor a bunch of newspapers.

Officer—The captain suggests that you read what's going on in the world and then let us know if you want to be rescued.

Facetious Lady — Pray, Mr. Pitt, as you known everything that is moving in the political world tell be some news.

Discreet Premier—I am sorry madam. I have not read the newspapers of the day.

A celebrated lawyer once said that the three most troublesome clients he ever had were a young woman who wanted to be married, a married woman who wanted a divorce, and an old maid who didn't know what she wanted.

Stassen at Work Again

Bids Party Keep Veep, Knowland Out of Control

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP)—Rep. Carroll Reece (R-Tenn.) said today he has received a telegram signed Harold E. Stassen urging Republican National Committee members to "keep the future of the party and country safe from the Nixons and Knowlands."

Reece said the telegram came from Stanford, Conn. He said he knew of other members of the national committee who had received an identical message.

Two other House members who also are members of the GOP national committee said they had not received such a telegram. They are Clarence Brown of Ohio and Mrs. Cecil Harden of Indiana.

Stassen Not Reached

Stassen, special assistant to President Eisenhower on disarmament matters, is in New York for the United Nations meeting. He could not be reached immediately.

Reece told a reporter the telegram he said he received was marked "confidential" and read:

"The time has come for Liberals to take a stand. Let's keep the future of the party and country safe from the Nixons and Knowlands. Let's elect Meade Alcorn chairman and really clean up the mess."

May Replace Hall

Alcorn, a Connecticut GOP leader, has figured in speculation over a new chairman of the Republican National Committee to succeed Leonard W. Hall, who is resigning February 1.

Reece is a national committee member and former national committee chairman.

A subcommittee will be named Saturday to confer with President Eisenhower and report recommendations on Hall's successor to the full GOP National Committee at a meeting here next Tuesday.

One Capitol Hill Republican, who declined to let his name be used, said today after word of the purported Stassen telegram got out:

Would Prefer Choice

"The skids are supposed to have been greased for Alcorn's election and some of us don't like it. We believe the President should give the committee a choice of four or five men from which to make the selection."

Stassen sought for weeks last year to prevent Vice President Nixon's renomination at the GOP National Convention in San Francisco.

He plugged for Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts as No. 2 man on the ticket with Eisenhower.

Saugerties VFW Blood Bank Signs 28 for Drawing

Only 28 volunteers have registered for the community blood bank drawing tonight at Saugerties Memorial Post, VFW Hall, Livingston street, Saugerties, according to Miss Marie Mc Cutcheon, chairman.

"Our appeal for blood donors has not been very encouraging so far," she said. Of the 28 registered only five are new donors. The others are regular donors who give whenever they are permitted.

Jointly Sponsored

The program is sponsored jointly by the VFW Post and Auxiliary, Miss McCutcheon said, 'It doesn't seem fair that these donors should continue to support this important community program and make blood available for an emergency for all Saugerties residents."

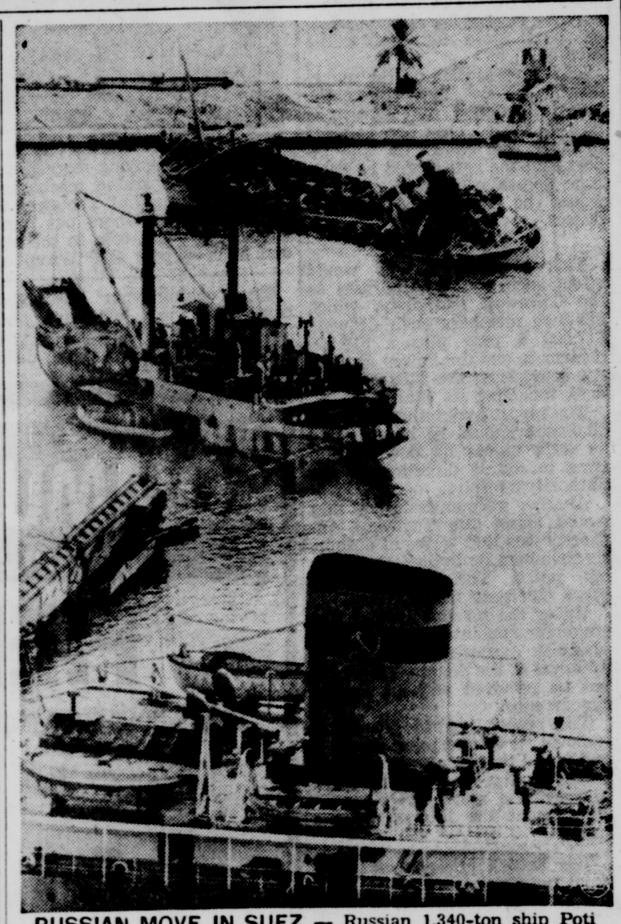

"This supply is available in the blood bank for any one in the community needing it and therefore should be supported by each individual in the township who is able to give blood." she said.

Prospective donors who would like to register, may call Miss McCutcheon or may report at the VFW Hall after 7 p. m.

Dr. Richard Wenger of Malden-on-Hudson will be in attendence during the drawing. Following the drawing refreshments will be served.

Nothing Safe

Oklahoma City (AP)—Detective Ed White isn't sure whom the joke is on. Burglars hauled off a safe, typewriter and adding machine. The safe later was found abandoned with a note scribbled across the front of a burglary policy: "This is a good big joke. Ha. Ha. Ha." The burglars had pried open the safe, only to find the policy and a few old coins.

RUSSIAN MOVE IN SUEZ — Russian 1,340-ton ship Poti (bottom) makes its way carefully past sunken ships in the blocked Suez Canal while sailing north, four miles above Kantara. The Soviet ship was one of 13 vessels trapped in the canal which were turned around so they could sail north to Port Said. German salvage ship in center helps clear the waterway.

Egypt Regards

steps for safeguarding peace and security."

The resolution would have the Assembly note "with regret and concern" Israel's failure to withdraw her troops behind the 1949 Egypt-Israel armistice lines as demanded by five previous resolutions.

It also would have the assembly request Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold "to continue his efforts for securing the complete withdrawal of Israel" and "to report on such completion to the assembly within five days."

Israeli Ambassador Abda Eban has told Hammarskjold that by next Tuesday Israeli forces will be out of all Egypt's Sinai desert except the Sharm el Sheikh area, "which at present insures freedom of navigation."

Sharm el Sheikh commands the approach to the Red Sea gulf of Aqaba, at the head of which is Eilat, Israel's only port in that area. Egyptian guns at Sharm el Sheikh long kept ships from entering Eilat.

Hammarskjold reported to the assembly that Israel was "silent about withdrawal from the Gaza Strip." Later he said Eban told him Israel was prepared to discuss "proposals for arrangements for the Gaza Strip."

Israel has been reluctant to withdraw from the Gaza area between her Negeb desert and the Mediterranean, saying Arab commandos used that stretch of territory for raids into Israel. The strip had been occupied provisionally by Egypt since the Palestine armistice in 1949.

Ulster Students Get Half Million In DeWitt Will

Mrs. Macdonald DeWitt, 73, a former Kingston resident who died yesterday in New York city, left more than half of $1,000,000 she made and saved through investments to an educational fund for Ulster county high school graduates, it was learned today.

She was the wife of Macdonald DeWitt, senior partner in the law firm of DeWitt, Nast and Diskin, trial lawyers specializing in libel litigation.

Mr. DeWitt said his wife made and saved a million dollars, more than half of which she has left to the DeWitt Revolving Fund for the purpose of helping high school graduates of Ulster county complete their education and qualify for one of the learned professions.

Mrs. DeWitt helped organize the Republican women of New York state. In addition to her efforts in organizing and furthering Republican political affairs, Mrs. DeWitt contributed her time to various charities including the American Red Cross and the Benedictine and Kingston Hospitals.

Mrs. DeWitt is reposing at Universal Chapel, 597 Lexington avenue, New York city, today and Friday from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 10:30 a. m. at the funeral chapel. Services will be held in the afternoon at A. Carr and Son, 1 Pearl street. Burial will be in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

3 Workers Die In Gas Blast

Liberal, Kan., Jan. 17 (AP)—Natural gas for the shivering area as far east as Detroit was shunted today around an explosion-wrecked pipe-line compressor station where three workmen perished.

The blast here in the southwest corner of Kansas late yesterday disabled a vital cog in the pipeline system between gas fields and the Great Lakes region.

Six States Affected

Officials of Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co., said they hoped to restore deliveries to 70 per cent of normal today.

They indicated this would mean no curtailment of gas for household use along Panhandle Eastern's system in Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan.

Industrial users in the six states were cut off immediately.

The whole area presently is in the grip of a cold wave.

In addition to the three killed, 14 men were burned and battered by the explosion. Three were reported in critical condition today. Four were released from a hospital after treatment.

Big Budget . . .

suming anticipated increases in government income are borne out.

The President forecast a year-end surplus of $1,800,000,000 which he said would be applied toward reduction of the 272 billion dollar national debt, now costing more than seven billions annually in interest charges.

Some members are known to feel that if Congress could cut the planned spending total several billion more, there might be enough of a surplus to provide tax relief in 1958, a congressional election year.

No sooner had Eisenhower's budget message been read than a partisan argument broke out on the House floor.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House Appropriations Committee called the budget "inflationary." And he complained that "there is no retrenchment, no economy."

Yule Seals Sale Brings in Over $30,000 to Date

"The 1956 Christmas Seals Sale has hit a new high," said Robert S. Russell of Saugerties, campaign chairman, at the meeting of the board of directors of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, held Tuesday evening at the office, 74 John street.

To date, the total already contributed by thousands of Ulster county residents is $30,204.49, the largest amount in history for this date.

Mr. Russell reported to Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb, president, and board members, that reminders are now being mailed out to those who have forgotten their appeal letter. When these people send their donation, he said the Board will find that the grand total would be large enough to expand the health program in the prevention and the building of physical and mental health.

Report on X-rays

It was reported by Miss Katherine M. Murphy, executive secretary, that reports of the 1956 free chest X-ray survey are now being received by residents who were X-rayed during the survey conducted as part of the five year plan for Ulster county people. Miss Murphy said of the 5,198 people who had their chest X-rayed during the week of the survey, the findings were as follows: With active tuberculosis, 17 persons, with inactive tuberculosis, 20 persons; with suspicious tuberculosis, 5 persons; cardio-vascular conditions, 15 persons; possible neoplasm (lung cancer), 12 persons; and 22 were found to have miscellaneous findings.

A report of the committee on rehabilitation was given by Mrs. William McNamee, chairman. She spoke of the program of the occupational therapist, the Christmas parties, visiting service and other activities for the patients at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital. She reported that several ladies have volunteered to assist her and Miss Florence Cordts, in the patient visiting service at the TB Hospital.

23 Health Programs

The report of the health education program was given by Miss Hazel M. Steed. During November and December 1956, the association sponsored 23 programs, attended by 1392 persons. In conjunction with films on TB, heart, mental health and general health, 1773 pieces of printed material were distributed.

Dr. Edward F. Shea's report on the mental health program revealed much activity—meetings with films and speakers, sponsored by the committee, and the promotional program now being conducted to bring information to the residents about the great need of a mental health clinic for Ulster county people.

Invitations have gone out from the TB office to leading organizations and individuals for the open hearing called by the board of supervisors for January 22 at 3 p. m., at the Ulster County Court House on Wall street.

In her report of heart committee activities, Mrs. Vincent Connelly reported the success of the rheumatic fever control program, now being offered to all school children in Ulster county. Nearly 60 children are receiving penicillin tablets provided by the Heart Chapter and being administered through the medical division of the schools. Parents and family physicians are showing a great interest and have requested the penicillin for the children to help prevent streptococcal sore throat which may cause recurrence of rheumatic fever. All central and high schools in Ulster county have now accepted and approved the program, sponsored and financed by the Heart Chapter of the Ulster County TB and Health Association.

Rayburn Opposed To Cut in Taxes

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP) — House Speaker Rayburn of Texas said today he would be opposed to any general income tax reduction this year.

In response to questions, Rayburn told a news conference he didn't think tax reduction "advisable" at this time even if proposed government spending were cut several billion dollars.

Rayburn noted that Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has taken a strong position against tax cutting.

Authority . . .

constructing the kinds of facilities which authorities undertake."

Have Many Projects

The report noted that authorities had built and were operating more than 1½ billion dollars worth of capital projects, including tunnels, bridges, port facilities, railroads, parks, office buildings, housing and so forth.

It concluded that authorities would "not be heavily burdened" if required to make some payments to local governments on debt-free facilities that produce revenue beyond the amount needed to maintain and operate the facility.

In a long section on the make-up of various authorities, the staff maintained that governing boards needed only one salaried member, the chairman. The report said the rest should be part-time non-salaried members, who would be reimbursed for expenses.

Thruway Included

This recommendation would affect such major authorities as the Thruway Authority, which has two members each drawing $17,000 a year plus a $19,500 chairman, and the Power Authority, comprising five $10,000 members, including its chairman.

The report maintained that the chairman should be non-salaried as well, unless he devoted full time to active direction of the authority's affairs.

Another recommendation that would affect the Thruway Authority was that terms of authority members be limited to five or six years. Thruway members serve nine-year terms.

Under the present system, the governor appoints the members of most authorities, subject to approval of the Senate. They cannot be removed without Senate concurrence.

The report termed senatorial removal "a cumbersome process" and urged that removal power be vested in the governor in order to provide a more direct means "to protect the interest of the state."

Republicans

not properly presented to him in committee last night.

The finance committee, Ryan held, had discussed only the budget, and when "I came back (to the council chamber) I was told that the finance committee had a report on the meters. I was never given an opportunity to say whether I was for or against it," Ryan said.

Roth argued that Ryan was told of the proposal, but walked away "mumbling."

Edwin Radel, (D) third ward, and Frank Zakseski (D) fourth ward argued that nothing had been mentioned as to the cost of the meter change. Bodenweber joined the argument in support of the claim that the minority member had not been notified.

Roth said it was a "good time" to inform the aldermen of the cost of the change and indicated it would be a dollar a meter. He insisted that he had presented the ordinance to Ryan "in the back room."

Ryan then arose to shout, "I defy him to take an oath on that." He said he was presented only with the budget.

Roth then asked Alderman-at-Large Schwenk if the meter proposal had been presented, and Schwenk said it was his understanding that the ordinance was to be brought to the minority party.

Alderman McArdle was of the opinion that the proposal had been presented to the minority member, but he advised that time should be allowed at the meeting for the minority to study the proposal.

Discussion Arises

The discussion arose during the vote on the finance committee report which was adopted. The aldermen recessed before voting on adoption of the ordinance.

"I think it's a little late to study it, after it is passed over our heads," Alderman Radel said. "If they use these tactics with something small they are apt to do it with something big."

Radel argued that "no one was more surprised than Ryan," when the latter saw the report.

"I don't lie. I have no reason to lie," Roth said, and he held that Ryan 'got up and walked away" when the item was presented. "Before you call a man a liar," he said, "you ought to take the wax out of your ears."

Roth said he had talked with the president of the Uptown Business Men's Association on the meter proposal, and he thought it was a good idea. Ryan said that did not necessarily mean that business men in other areas were in favor of it. They too, should have been consulted, he said.

McArdle mentioned something to the effect that in the past the council had seen fit to amend ordinances, and it would be done with this one, if found necessary.

Cites Share Angle

Roth held that residents of the city pay high taxes for privileges also shared by people from the county. The meter proposal, he felt, was one way in which they could help pay their share.

Ryan, speaking on the budget, said that up until Monday of this week, it was his opinion that the finance committee was in favor of a $3.90 cut in the tax rate, and that with the granting of pay raises to the policemen and firemen, as listed, the cut could have been $3.20.

The alderman reported on several other proposed cuts which were not finally listed in the budget as approved last night.

Where Cuts Made

The cuts, as finally approved took $8,000 from the city's parks and municipal stadium funds, $22,000 from refuse disposal, $10,000 from highway maintenance and $2,500 from municipal building repairs. Of the $39,000 listed in new anticipated revenue, $35,000 is expected to come from the boost in parking meter rates.

Alderman Bodenweber, reporting on his attendance at budget-discussion sessions, declared: "I only wish the people could see what turncoats they (majority council members) are."

"They were going to do away with this, and they were going to do away with that," he continued. The chairman of the finance committee, he said, wanted to know, if he, Bodenweber, was going to work in favor of small groups, or for the people at large.

Bodenweber indicated he favored reconsideration of the police and firemen proposals, and this "small group" question was put to him.

Deals With Figures

Since those meetings, the alderman said, "somebody has changed his mind." If every member was to state the truth, he said, the tax rate cut would have been $3.90, and with the policemen's and firemen's raises, it would have been $3.20 or $3.30. He was glad that they were getting the raises, he said, if it makes salaries attractive enough to get men on both forces.

Mayes said "If I found that I was in error, I'd always go on record that I changed my mind."

Zakseskie noted that Roth had mentioned 50 hours of time for study of the budget. That, he said, was "prior to last Monday night. "This budget," he charged, was made up in a couple of hours."

Bodenweber noted that other members of the council as well as the committee spent considerable time on the budget. Changes took place somewhere between "Monday night and tonight," he said, and then charged, "I still contend that Mr. Roth does not have a mind of his own."

Ryan then said that "item by item we were assured that this was going to be a non-partisan Common Council approach." Several indicated that they would hold that view, he held, but now they are back to "old line" action. Roth then noted that it takes seven votes to adopt a budget, and that it would be impossible to approve one otherwise.

Ryan indicated that he favored the pay raises as granted because the police and fire departments were the city's safety insurance. Then noting that pay raises for the city clerk and corporation counsel were still listed, he said, "It strikes me that this budget may very well be illegal."

By a 7-5 vote, with one member absent, the council, in December authorized a pay raise of from $5,000 to $6,000 for the city clerk and from $4,000 to $6,000 for the corporation counsel. This month the aldermen voted unanimously to repeal its previous measure.

Ryan Has Doubt

Alderman-at-large Schwenk, and Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy explained that a local law could not be repealed by resolution alone, and that the two approved for salary raises required substitution of other enacted local laws before they could be repealed.

Ryan asked that this opinion be stated in a letter from the corporation counsel, and indicated that he still had doubts as to the ruling.

Radel wanted to know why the chairman of the committee "did not present a local law." About 10 minutes before the vote in favor of the pay boosts he said, that night the council "gave the mayor money to pay for deficits." It did not seem right to give raises with the city in debt.

Radel said that in January "the chairman of the finance committee and other members of the organization (council) got out the axe he uses to cut the budget, and there were hints of taking away salary boosts which were thought justified and not in line with the economy. One result was repeal of the two salary boosts voted in December.

Alderman Mayes, shortly before the session ended, said, "I want to thank the police personally for their protection this evening, and to all employes of the city, I want to say, I hope the aldermen can help you in 1958, the same as they are helping you (the policemen) tonight in increasing your salary."

Mr. DeDea, representing the civic association, made a point of the fact that the city could effect a three-per cent saving by early payment of a $78,000 item to Central Hudson for city lighting.

As it now stands, he noted the city, as late as Jan. 14 still owed $36,000 of the bill. He argued that a city economy moves as to salaries, was not taking away money. "We haven't got it to give," he held.

DeDea observed that "a lot of people never seen before" were at the council session, and he noted," a nice set-up of police officers." It was not up to the police commissioners, he held, but to the council to grant the pay boosts sought. Later Lt. Robert Murphy of the police department held that the police board was empowered to deal with departmental salaries.

DeDea, citing a report, noted that Bayonne, N. J. through lowering government costs, retained an industry which had threatened to leave.

Locally, he held, it should be determined, "If we can get the mayor to stop pussy footing and playing house with city finances."

Fireman Greer held that local firemen were being underpaid for 56 hours of duties while other cities paid more for 40 hours of duty a week.

Paid firemen, he said, are classified as professional men by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, and the only way to get well qualified men is to offer them a fair living. Firemen are on duty 24 hours a day, he stressed and must get permission to leave the city.

Roesch, of the fire fighters association, noted that when the cost of living goes up "we all pay." He observed that in Kingston men were not applying for fire department jobs. Firemen, he said, do not have benefits gained in private industry. They must go into a pension plan, and if the city were able to give them hospitalization, they would pay 50 per cent.

There was no economy, he said, "in low salaries, poor equipment and low morale . . . You can go home, relax and sleep, the firemen are watching and ready at all times."

Keresman, as police conference secretary, tracing the history of salaries in the local police department, noted that 1939 was an important date because prior to that policemen were not subject to federal tax.

Patrolmen then received $2,040 a year. Between 1939 and 1950 cost of living increased 100 per cent.

Cites Living Costs

Between 1939 and 1942, Keresman said, no increases were granted in the local department. From 1939 to 1947 increases totaled $360, and during that same time living costs spurted 70 per cent. In 1953 policemen got a $60 raise on the year, and in 1954 and 55 they got $50 each year.

Keresman noted that 27 out of 48 men had resigned. In the move toward salary boosts, he said, the mayor agreed to the $5,000 goal, and to taking $1,250 and splitting it over three years to gain the goal. This was publicly stated and not proposed "behind closed doors," and "we accepted the word of the administration."

The police, he said, are a semi-military organization, and all their time belongs to the city. "They cannot put on their hats and say, 'I'm through.'" A policeman, he said, was never through, and could not walk past any serious action or mishap, without doing his duty.

As in the plea made for the firemen, he said that the department could not attract and hold the right kind of men unless it paid a living wage.

"You cannot put a uniform on a policeman and expect him to do a job unless he gets paid," he said, and he asked the aldermen to do their part in raising standards and morale at their "highest possible level."

Potter Is Named Eckert Assistant In Esopus Town

E. Sterling Potter of Port Ewen, town of Esopus councilman, has been named Deputy Supervisor for the town by Supervisor Edward R. Eckert following action by the town board at its organization meeting Jan. 9.

Although Potter would serve as supervisor during the illness or absence of Supervisor Eckert, he would have no vote in town board meetings or have the authority to represent the town at a meeting of the county board of supervisors.

During a controversy a year ago in which the legality of Eckert's election to office was under fire, it was suggested a deputy be named to act. Among those who suggested such action was Arnold Ellsworth, who was involved in the controversy, but no action was taken at the time. Eckert has since represented the town on the county board.

In June Eckert suggested the town board name a deputy supervisor who might become familiar with town government and the ever changing town laws and be prepared to serve in office in the event of a vacancy. All town board members were not at the June meeting and no action was taken on Eckert's proposal until it was again brought up at the organization meeting in January.

Supervisor Eckert said he felt the "ever changing laws" required someone in a town who could become familiar with town government and its many complicated duties, or in fact serve on a training basis who could act in the event of need.

Potter will continue to serve as councilman. He will only serve as deputy supervisor in the event of illness or inability of Supervisor Eckert to serve. While serving as supervisor in place of the regularly elected supervisor he will be entitled to a fee of $7 a day.

New York, Jan. 17 (AP) — A spokesman for Rayonier Inc. said today a formal announcement on the merger talks between Rayonier and Hammermill Paper Co., Erie, Pa., "can be expected in the next day or so." Clyde B. Morgan, president of Rayonier, yesterday said the negotiations had been under way "for some time" but declined to elaborate. Donald S. Leslie, president of Hammermill, said today, in a statement, "we are now engaged in surveying the possibilities of putting Rayonier and Hammermill together. These two companies have been intimately associated in their respective branches of the paper industry for over 30 years."

High School's New-Found Power Gets Real Test at Liberty

THIS MAGNIFICENT specimen of Barren Ground Caribou stag was taken by Warren Page, shooting editor of Field & Stream Magazine on a recent Alaskan expedition which is the subject of his film, "King Caribou." The trophy, with a score of more than 400 points, will rank high in the Boone & Crockett Club world records. Page will be guest speaker at the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club's annual banquet on Saturday, Jan. 26, at the SRS Home in Cottekill.

Redskins Have Crack Shooter In Lawrence

Filled with renewed hope now that ace center, Tony Grimaldi, is back in the lineup, Kingston High goes after its second DUSO League triumph Friday at Liberty against the Indians in the top game on the calendar.

Before that, Newburgh (4-2) gets the acid test tonight against front-running Poughkeepsie (5-0) and seeking its 27th straight win. The contest is a makeup game from Dec. 14 and will be played at the NFA gym.

Poughkeepsie will see action also on Friday, facing Fallsburgh (0-6) on the Comet's floor. Rounding out the card is Monticello (1-5) at Port Jervis (4-2) and Middletown (2-4) at Ellenville (5-1).

The appearance of Grimaldi Tuesday gave the Maroons a needed shot in the arm and helped them upend Arlington, 66-56, ending a brilliant 27-game winning streak of the Dutchess cagers. Prior to his arrival, KHS was dragging its feet and going nowhere but down.

Grimaldi Was Key

Grimaldi wasn't, of course, the only player instrumental in the upset win, but he was the key one. A check of the statistics showed that he snared 20 rebounds and collected 11 points in a little more than a quarter of action. Six of the tallies came at a pivatol stage of the game and swung the contest in favor of the locals. Arlington had drawn within dangerous striking range (54-52) when Grimaldi unloaded three pretty jump shots in a row to cinch the win.

His presence also had a helpful effect on Bob Smith who had played way below par in past games. 'Smitty,' KHS's lone All-DUSO choice last year, was under extreme pressure in every start and a marked player. With some of the strain relieved, he flashed his old time form and contributed a seasonal high of 23 points with some great outside sniping.

Coach Pleased

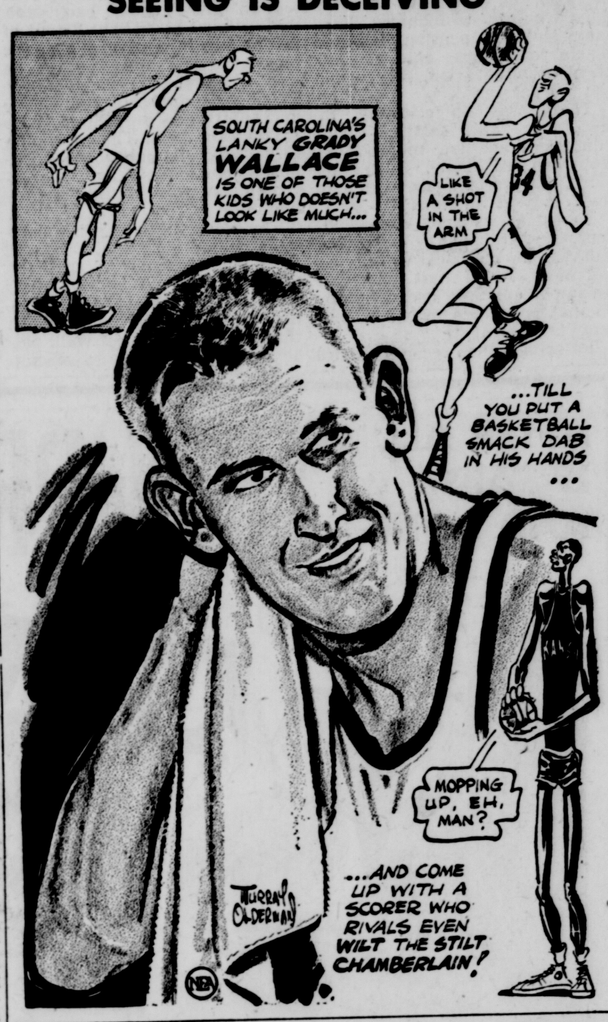

Coach Jack Gilligan was overly pleased, of course, with his club sudden resurgence. He said that he planned to start the same five at Liberty as began against Arlington in an attempt to boost his 1-4 loop record. Grimaldi, Smith and Bob Strong will be up front and George Uhl and Larry Johnson in backcourt. This combination gives Gilligan just what he has wished for all year, good overall height and powerful scoring and rebounding.

The Kingston mentor pointed out that the team shot their best this season—about 44 per cent—against Arlington. They sank 28 of 64 shots which is plenty good enough to win.

Johnny Lawrence is the boy KHS must slow down if it hopes to win. The pint-sized guard is averaging 19.2 points a game and has scored 115 points in Liberty's six DUSO starts. Other stalwarts include 6-6 center Kevin Maloney, guard Jack Thompson and forwards Demy Payne and Curt Benton.

Liberty started in a blaze of glory and clicked off four straight wins to lead the DUSO at the holiday break. But since then it has dropped a close 61-59 decision to Poughkeepsie and a 72-64 verdict to Ellenville.

Godwins Romp Over Cedaraps, 98-70

Bill DuBois Bags 28 Points

Bill DuBois unloaded 38 points, all from scrimmage, to spark Godwin Upholstery's 98-70 conquest of Back's Cedaraps in the YMCA "A" League last night.

With DuBois hitting 19 times from the field, the Upholsterers breezed all the way, leading 27-15 at the quarter and 51-31 at the intermission.

The win was the fourth in five starts for the second-place Godwins who had four of their five "iron men" in double figures.

Terlingen Gets 19

Dick Terlingen, former Walden High and Siena College star, drilled 19 points. Al Long hit 16 and Ray Lawrence posted 17. The fifth man, Jim Mackey, accounted for eight points.

Vince Hainer meshed 16 markers for the Cedaraps; Huyler Van Wagenen and Fred Orr rimmed 14 apiece and Dick Chatham dropped 10.

Blacktops Conquer Caruso's

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

Judging by the furore stirred up by Jackie Robinson's retirement, one would suspect that organized baseball was going to die the death of a rag baby with his departure.

But Roy Campanella assures you that the major league clubs will be back doing business at the same old stands come spring.

One of the more significant things the always controversial Robinson had to say in his valedictory was that the Dodgers would be in trouble if Campanella's hand didn't come around.

So Campanella, closer than any other to being the indispensable man of the Brooklyn club, has good news for his side that is bad for the outfits chasing the National League champions. The burly catcher shakes hands with you demonstrating that the operation of Nov. 21 removed the source of the soreness around the base of the thumb on his throwing hand. To strengthen the V between the thumb and index finger, he swings two bats daily in the storeroom of his Harlem liquor store.

Campanella's more recent alternate big and, for him, ordinary years definitely are traced to hand operations. A return to his most-valuable-player form would come very near to making the Brooks a breeze.

* * *

INJURED BY A FOUL tip in a training exhibition game in Miami, Campanella suffered pain every time he wrapped his right hand around the handle of a bat. A chipped bone which was removed affected a tendon and nerve.

Campanella believes that Robinson could have at least one more excellent year with the Giants.

"Bitterness developed when the Dodgers sold Robby. He doesn't back up on his words too easily."

Campanella doesn't particularly care to become involved in Robinson's controversy with Buzzy Bavasi, but must say that after 11 years of association, he thinks the world of Walter O'Malley and the vice-president in charge of practically everything at 215 Montague Street.

THE ONLY ROBINSON PARTING statements with which Campanella disagrees are those having to do with the lack of security in baseball and the crack that "baseball may be a sport to a lot of people, but to me it's just big business."

"Wonder if Robinson thinks he would have got the $50,000 from the magazine and the job with the snack bar chain had he not been a ballplayer?" asks Campanella.

"But a fellow says a lot of things he doesn't mean when he's angry.

"I'm 35 and they'll have to cut the uniform off me. You'll never catch me rapping baseball. Without baseball, I wouldn't have this liquor store, the home on Long Island and my boat. My wife and six kids are much better off because of baseball."

Campanella is excited about old and new Dodgers.

It was pointed out that Sal Maglie will be 40 when another season gets under way.

"When those hitters come up there," says Roy, "they won't be thinking, 'That guy out there is 40 years old.' They'll be thinking, 'That guy out there has a h--- of a curve.'

"Never saw one like it," concludes Roy Campanella, who has been catching professionally for 20 years.

Winners Cash In on Fouls

A fast finish gave Kingston Blacktops a 94-91 squeaker over Caruso's Insurance in a foul-ridden YMCA "B" League basketball game last night.

The teams combined to roll up 52 personal fouls in a rock-and-sock contest in which the Insurancemen drew 28 penalties and Blacktops 24.

Trailing by 71-70 at the three-quarter mark, Blacktops pulled the game out of the fire with a last-minute surge and foul conversions were the decisive factor. The winners were outscored from the field, 37-35, but had a 24-17 bulge at the charity stripe and that was just enough to make the difference.

Holstein Scores 30

The Caruso loss overshadowed a brilliant 30-point spree by George Holstein and a 25-point barrage by Charlie Tiano.

Top sharpshooters for the Blacktops were Ronnie Marks and Don Simmons with 22 and 21 respectively. Richie Nagele and Butch Tomaseskie came up with 14 apiece.

JOHN QUINZI

Part-Time Bowler Should Nix Spots

"If you're an average bowler getting in less than 15 games a week, I would not advise 'spot bowling'," says John Quinzi, captain of the "Jenny 5" bowling teams, champions of the 1956 New York state tournament.

Quinzi, one of the state's best known and most decorated bowlers, has met literally hundreds of keglers in the 18 years he has been hitting in tenpins and has come away the victor in head-to-head matches with such renowned keglers as Steve Nagy, Jack Zack, Lee Braymiller and Morris Cramer.

In Chicago's famous Petersen Classic, John finished in second place in 1947, captured the championship in 1951 and was third in 1952, making him the second highest winner in the history of this yearly event.

"Spot bowling requires nearly perfect timing and co-ordination," claims John, "and constant practice is the only sure way to develop timing and acquire the precise coordination needed for accuracy. The average bowler just doesn't get enough practice to become adept at "spot" bowling."

Cards Sign Moon

St. Louis, Jan. 17 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals signed one of their important players yesterday as 26-year-old Wally Moon agreed to play in 1957 for a reported $17,000 or $18,000, about $3,000 more than last season's salary. Moon, now in his fourth year with the Red Birds, is the 30th player signed by General Manager Frank Lane. Moon batted .298 last year, falling into a slump after leading the league with a .336 mark with five weeks to go. Last year Moon setarted at first base but finished up in the outfield.

Syracuse Snaps Penn State Streak as Cohen Scores 23

(By The Associated Press)

The Syracuse University basketball team was back on the victory trail today.

The Orange snapped a Penn State winning streak at four last night. On Monday, another Pennsylvania squad — Pittsburgh —ended a Syracuse winning streak at eight.

The Orangemen entertain a third keystone state opponent Saturday night when La Salle comes to the Syracuse War Memorial Auditorium.

The Syracuse-Penn State game headlined a five-game schedule involving upstate New York teams. Albany State at Oswego was postponed because of the weather.

Clarkson defeated St. Lawrence, 89-73, and Cortland Teachers whipped Mansfield (Pa.) Teachers, 84-57, in home games. Plattsburgh topped Potsdam, 62-56, and Buffalo beat Alfred, 85-71, on the road.

Cohen Tallies

Vinnie Cohen sparked Syracuse, which hit on 58 per cent of its field goal attempts and made a shambles of the usually tight Penn State defense. Cohen tallied 23 points.

The Pennsylvanians scored first, but the winners quickly erased their 2-0 lead and were ahead for the rest of the contest. Each team has won nine and lost three.

Bob Shepard and Dave Olmsted each scored 23 points for Clarkson. The winners were ahead 37-29 at halftime and went on to post their sixth triumph against three defeats. St. Lawrence has a 4-6 record.

Mansfield switched from a zone defense to a man-to-man defense but couldn't stop Cortland from registering its ninth victory against four losses. Frank Dawson paced Cortland with 17 points. John Witowski of the losers tallied 23.

Plattsburgh's Murray Bullock spearheaded his club to its sixth victory in 11 contests. He tallied 19. Vince Jay's 15 topped Potsdam, which has a 4-7 record.

Rondout Valley, Saugerties Face Tough Contests in UCAL

Leaders to Play Highland; SHS Meets Marlboro

The two leaders in the UCAL, Rondout Valley Central and Saugerties High, are favored to win home games Friday as the season hits the midway mark.

Pace-setting Rondout Valley (5-0) meets fifth place Highland (2-3) and second place Saugerties (4-1) hosts fourth place Marlboro (2-2). Completing the slate is a battle to escape the cellar between Wallkill (0-5) and New Paltz (0-4) on the Huguenots' court.

Both Rondout and the Sawyers may be a trifle hard pressed to win, but if form holds true should come through unscathed. Right now, the UCAL race seems to have resolved itself into a pennant fight between the two clubs with Onteora (4-2) standing an outside chance.

Near Identical Marks

Rondout boasts nine wins overall, including a 55-52 home victory over the Sawyers. Saugerties is 8-2 altogether with its other loss coming in non-league play at the expense of Arlington.

The Kerhonkson quintet faces the tougher assignment Friday. They must be set for an explosive Highland club that hasn't really got started. Coach Bob Relyea has a fine scoring threesome in Johnny Gersch, Dave Wililams and Bob Valentino, but the trio hasn't clicked in unison so far. Williams has been the steadiest while Gersch has been hot and cold. Valentino has been having eligibility difficulties and has played in just two league games.

Rondout is headed for its second straight UCAL title and the only thing that seems to block its way is Saugerties. The clubs meet in a rematch Feb. 11 at Saugerties and that tilt will undoubtedly clear the picture.

Must Stop Mandia

Saugerties' biggest problem against Marlboro will be trying to stop Richie Mandia who is currently on a scoring rampage. The thick-shouldered 6-foot center canned 33 points in his latest start and is among the top five scorers in the league.

The Sawyers will be bolstered by the presence of forward Skip Kugelman who missed a couple of vital games because of an ankle injury. Kugelman played a little more than a quarter against Onteora Tuesday, but is now ready for full-time service.

One of the steadiest Sawyers has been center Austin Kerin. The giant 6-7 pivotman has been coming along nicely and is one of the top rebounders in the league as well as a fairly steady double figure scorer. Another standout of late is backcourt playmaker Don Whitaker who is starting to score with authority.

Ramblers Upset Don's Cleaners

League Standing

Don's Amer. Cleaners	9	11
Pete's Ramblers	6	14

Pete's Ramblers pulled the upset of the season in the County Major Shuffleboard League by upending Don's American Cleaners, 3-1.

A.J.'s Cadillacs retained a one game lead by splitting with Andy's Atoms, 2-2.

Pete Fisher Jr. and Moe Playford won twice, while Rookie Prusack and Pete Fisher Sr. added a third victory for the Ramblers. Don Gallagher-Bud Rappleyea picked up the lone win for the Cleaners.

Harold Johnson-Art Brown remained undefeated winning twice for the Atoms. Al J. Oster-Bud Leininger had a double for the Cadillacs. In next Tuesday's pairings, Atoms meet the Ramblers and the Cadillacs go against the Cleaners.

FOOT FIRST—Warren Hacker was supposed to have foot trouble with the Chicago Cubs last season. Traded to the Cincinnati Reds, the pitcher showed he had good understanding before signing.

Winter Carnival Skating Races Slated at Hudson

The Hudson Winter Carnival's eighth annual speed skating championships will headline the sports activities which get under way Sunday, Jan. 20 at 1 p. m. at Oakdale Lane in Hudson.

The ice events have been sanctioned by the Northern New York Skating Association and the Middle Atlantic Skating Association.

Ray Blum, the former Olympic skating star who won the Middle Atlantic championships at Newburgh Sunday, will be among the top skaters in the northeastern section of the country who will appear.

Three-Mile Race Set

The 39-event program will feature the three-mile Lions Cup race. The Skateland Club, of New York, last year's champions, will defend their title. They have one leg on the Winter Carnival speed skating cup.

The speed skating championships will be followed by the sled derby on Dugway road in Hudson, Thursday, Jan. 24 at 7:30 p. m. This event is run on a lighted course with approximately 100 boys and girls from the Hudson area participating annually.

The hockey tournaments will be held at Oakdale Lake with the Junior division starting on Saturday, Jan. 26 at 2 p. m., and the Senior division beginning play on Sunday, Jan. 27. The Morey Park Sextet are defending champions in the Junior division. The Senior title was won last year by the Albany Capitols. The lighted hockey area at Oakdale Lake has been improved for this year's games with a new fence enclosure.

The entire Winter Carnival program will be reigned over by the Queen who will be crowned at the Coronation Ball at the State Armory in Hudson on Saturday, Jan. 19.

$375,000 in Stakes For Saratoga Racing

New York, Jan. 17 (AP)—The 1957 racing meet at the Saratoga flat track calls for 15 stakes, worth $375,000.

The stakes are among 86 added money events announced yesterday by the Greater New York Assn. (GNYA), which operates the state's three flat tracks, Jamaica, Belmont and Saratoga. The races are worth a total of $2,620,000.

The meet at Saratoga will be from Aug. 5 to Aug. 31.

The annual stakes program at Saratoga is topped by the $50,000 Saratoga Handicap, for 3-year-olds and up at a mile and one quarter Aug. 24; the Whitney, Aug. 10, restricted to 4-year-olds and up; and the Travers for 3-year-olds, America's oldest stakes race, both have $40,000 values. The upstate meeting closes Aug. 31 with the $30,000-added Hopeful for 2-year-olds, a stakes usually worth $75,000.

Parnell, Mathews Jensen Sign, but Mantle Is Balking

By The Associated Press

The signing of veteran southpaw Mel (No Hit) Parnell and rookie outfielder Marty Keough was announced today by the Boston Red Sox as major league clubs continued to line up their players for the 1957 baseball season.

The 34-year-old Parnell hurled a no-hitter against the Chicago White Sox last season. Keough, 21, hit .315 with San Francisco in the Pacific Coast League last year, but was sidelined much of the season with a broken ankle.

Third baseman Eddie Mathews who hit 37 home runs and drove in 95 runs, came to terms with the Milwaukee Braves yesterday. He inked a one-year contract for about $32,000. First baseman Joe Adcock, a 38-homer man in 1956, signed a two-year pact Wednesday.

Yank Rookies Sign

The world champion Yankees received the signed contracts of three of their younger players—infielder Tom Carroll, catcher John Blanchard and outfielder Marvin Zipfel—but were unable to make any headway with Mickey Mantle, their star centerfielder.

Mantle, who returned his first contract unsigned, had a 30-minute "exploratory talk" with Lee MacPhail, the team's personnel director. Mickey is believed to be asking for $60,000 on the strength of his triple (batting, runs batted in and home run) success and his most valuable player designation.

Jackie Jensen of the Boston Red Sox and Wally Moon of the St. Louis Cards put their names on the line. Jensen, a .315 hitter, was the first Boston player to sign. Moon hit .298 and will get around $18,000 for his '57 efforts.

Infielders Randy Jackson and Charley Neal of Brooklyn and Johnny Temple of Cincinnati came to terms. So did pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm of the New York Giants, catcher Mack Burk of Philadelphia and outfielder Jim Pisoni of Kansas City.

Buffalo, N. Y. (AP)—Three Buffalo Bisons reached the 200-point mark in American Hockey League scoring within the space of eight days. Frank Sullivan, Kenny Wharram and Larry Wilson all passed the double century mark during December.

NBA Strips Sandy Of Feather Title

Milwaukee, Jan. 17 (AP) — Spindly-legged Sandy Saddler, no longer the boss of the featherweights in the eyes of the National Boxing Assn., may be reinstated if he proves "physically unfit" at an examination next week.

The NBA stripped Saddler of his crown yesterday for failing to sign for a title defense but said it would "reconsider" if the examination shows "he is unable to fight."

Sandy was injured in an auto accident last July and hasn't fought since. He last defended the 126-pound title on Jan. 18, 1956 when he stopped Flash Elorde of the Philippines in the 13th round.

This makes the third time, in and out of the ring, that Saddler has lost the championship. He first lost it to Willie Pep on a 15-round decision Feb. 11, 1949 after he had won it from the Hartford, Conn. fancy-Dan four months earlier.

Then, on Dec. 14, 1954, the NBA dethroned Saddler for failing to defend his crown within a six months period. The New York State Athletic Commission declined to take similar action.

The New York commission also leans toward Saddler in the latest hassle.

"We're not going to take any man's championship away if he's got a legitimate reason for not fighting," said chairman Julius Helfand in New York. "His condition will be determined shortly and the New York commission will act accordingly."

College Coaches Like Game As Is, Vote Mask Penalty

New Orleans, Jan. 17 (AP)—The football rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. diagnosed the game "pretty good as it is today," but cracked down on face mask grabbing as a growing danger.

The three-day sessions ended yesterday with committee chairman T. O. (Fritz) Crisler, athletic director at the University of Michigan, terming the get-together "unusually satisfying."

The committee, endowed by the NCAA with final say on football legislation, imposed a 15-yard penalty for protective face mask grabbing and declined to expand the present substitution rule.

E. E. (Ted) Wieman, committee secretary and athletic director at the University of Denver, said the 25-man group felt the practice of grabbing masks could lead to "dangerous situations."

The substitution rule change was proposed by retired Columbia University coach Lou Little as a representative of the American Football Coaches Assn. Under the plan, substitute as well as starters would be permitted to return to the game once each quarter. The present rule allows starting players to return once each period.

Crisler said the committee felt the change could lead to a return of platoon system football. He said schools with large squads could train specialists in offense and defense and still another unit both ways.

"The feeling among committee members," he said, "is that we've got a pretty good game just as it is and there's no sense in changing it."

Berrios Setback Upsets Ratings In Feather Group

Boston, Jan. 17 (AP) — Miguel Berrios' upset loss to Gil Cadilli today added further confusion to boxing's unsettled featherweight division.

Cadilli beat Berrios, the second-rated feather contender, on split decision in a nationally televised (ABC) 10-round bout last night at Mechanics Building.

Cadilli, who weighed 127½ and who is an unranked club fighter from San Francisco, won on the identical 99-95 point-system voting of Referee Eddie Bradley and Judge Johnny Savko. Judge Joe Santarpio voted for Berrios, 98-95.

Berrios had hoped to move immediately into a bout with the No. 1 ranked feather contender, Cherif Hamia of Algiers, which might settle the vacated title.

It was a dull, dreary contest most of the way with Cadilli apparently winning on his jabs and his elusiveness.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

BY WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor

One of the more pleasant prospects, as 1957 grows into a full-fledged year, is the thought that it will see more and more developments scattered around the country of the shooting school sort.

No reason, when you come right down to it, why youngsters or even men who've come to the realization that shooting is above all others a lifetime hobby shouldn't go for schooling of a professional type.

It's common knowledge that half a dozen states have already incorporated into the curriculum for teen-agers instruction of a completely non-military sort with sporting arms.

NRA Available

There has been considerable publicity given localized operations like the highly successful shooting and safety school run by Williams Gun Shop, just outside Flint, Mich., and by this time man and boy realize that it takes little scratching around to locate an NRA-affiliated rifle or pistol club where instruction comes both free and willingly.

A would-be scattergunner can always get help, too, ranging from pure kibitzing to serious instruction, at the local skeet or trap club, even if he hasn't the wherewithal to visit the ranges at Sun Valley or Sea Island or the super-layouts of Fieldale Farms outside Chicago. Under one guise or another, we've got all manner of shooting training going on.

But the bulk of it is range training—a matter of learning the skills and the properly safe manners of punching bullet holes in paper or cracking clay birds. Not much on field manners or practical wingshooting, not yet.

Opens New Field

The gimmick dreamed up by a pheasant preserve operator, John Martin of New Jersey's Wingover Farms, may open up this whole new field, however. Martin has made arrangements with Blair Academy, a few miles from his acres, for a score or two of interested youngsters to come to Wingover for five sessions. A week apart, the first four are devoted to proper scattergun handling subjects, from how to transport a gun over a stone wall safely to how to swing on a high incomer.

Be nice to see Martin's plan duplicated wherever in this country the commercial pheasant preserve operates, wouldn't it?

Comeback Trail

Springfield, Ill. (NEA) — National League Umpire Al Barlick, who sat out the 1956 season with heart trouble, is getting in shape for a comeback by visiting Illinois prisons as a rehabilitation expert.

Ted Kroll, in winning $72,835.83 in golf in 1956, won the largest amount of money ever won by a professional golfer in one year.

Louisville Bids For Blue Grass Cage Supremacy

(By The Associated Press)

Kentucky, the state renowned for swift race horses, has come up with two crack college basketball teams in the Kentucky Wildcats and Louisville's Cardinals. And the Cards are showing signs of becoming the top team in the territory.

Racing to a 45-23 lead in the first 14 minutes, Louisville easily registered its sixth straight victory last night, clobbering Eastern Kentucky 104-67. The triumph was the 10th against two setbacks for the Cardinals, who are ranked fifth nationally.

Kentucky's Wildcats, idle last night, are rated fourth in the latest Associated Press poll. They show an 11-3 mark.

Other Leaders Win

Only to other clubs among the first 20 saw action last night. Seattle (No. 7) defeated Portland State 76-64 and Oklahoma A&M (No. 19) beat Oklahoma 57-43.

In other games, Maryland whipped Georgetown (DC) 82-69, Clemson nipped Furman 80-77 in overtime, Syracuse trounced Penn State 75-45 and Villanova dumped Penn 63-47.

Louisville, which has lost only to Canisius 76-74 and St. Louis 93-77, had an easy time of it against Eastern Kentucky. All five of its starting players scored in double figures with Bill Darragh leading the parade with 28 points.

Bruins Suspend Terry Sawchuk; Canadiens Gain

By The Associated Press

The Montreal Canadiens rapidly are making a shambles of the National Hockey League race.

After a slow start they now hold a 5-point margin over the second place Detroit Red Wings following a 3-2 triumph over the Toronto Maple Leafs in the league's lone game last night.

The victory stretched the Canadiens' unbeaten streak to nine games put together with 8 victories and one tie. Toronto's defeat kept the Leafs from stretching their one-point margin over the New York Rangers in their duel for the fourth and last position in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Rookie Takes Over

Rookie Norm DeFelice took over as the Boston Bruins' regular goalie today with three-time Vezina Trophy winner Terry Sawchuk suspended for quitting the National Hockey League club and pulling a disappearing act.

The 23-year-old DeFelice, who started out the 1956-57 season as a spare goalie for Hershey in the American Hockey league, will be in the net for tonight's game against the Detroit Red Wings.

Sawchuk was suspended by the Bruins yesterday less than 24 hours after he told club officials he was quitting hockey. The suspension could result in a lifetime ban against Sawchuk, one of the NHL's top-paid players.

"The suspension stands unless we find that Terry is still a sick man," Coach Milt Schmidt said.

Teach Refugees

Victoria, B. C. (AP)—Courses in English for Hungarian refugees are being set up by the provincial government and instructors will be paid. Education Minister Les Peterson said "it is hoped that many of our citizens will aid by offering to serve as instructors."

Armor

Pueblo, Colo. (AP)—Donald Diment, 10, figures his pocket case for glasses comes in very handy at times. A dog ran out of a yard and bit Donald, but the boy walked away laughing. The glasses case in Donald's hip pocket absorbed the full blow of the dog's teeth.

Tried and True

Tahlequah, Okla. (AP) — Tom Chastain should be a good prospect for a new car but he isn't. He says his 1932 model Ford, which has turned the 100,000 mile post twice, still percolates on all four.

SPECTATOR SPORT—Grimly determined to prove his skill as a matador, an excited spectator leaped into Mexico City's Plaza Mexico arena to challenge the bull. Above, he executes a dangerous pass while on his knees as the charging animal thunders past. Often, young spectators, with no experience, but carried away by enthusiasm, leap into the ring. If they escape being gored, they are hauled off by the police for an automatic 15-day jail term or a $40 fine.

Going to Dogs

Farmington, N. M. (AP)—When the city poundmaster resigned in this northwestern New Mexico city, the Farmington Times solemnly reported that it was safe to say the town was going back to the dogs.

Northeast Due For More Frigid Air-Forecast

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP)—The weather will be colder than usual for the season over most of the nation during the next 30 days, the Weather Bureau says.

The Bureau's outlook for the mid-January to mid-February period calls for subnormal temperatures everywhere in the country except the southwest. In that area, temperatures are expected to average around normal.

The greatest drop from normal temperatures was forecast for the northeast.

The outlook added:

"Precipitation is expected to exceed normal along the gulf coast and east of the Appalachians with frequent snows from the Carolinas northward. Greater than normal amounts are also anticipated in the Rocky Mountain states while subnormal precipitation is indicated over the midwest. In areas not specified near normal amounts are in prospect."

Film Official Dies

New York, Jan. 17 (AP)—William Gehring, 59, a vice president of Twentieth Century Fox Film Corp., died in his sleep today at his home, 180 West 58th street. Death apparently was due to a heart attack. He was at his office yesterday and associates said he had not complained of being ill. A native of Rensselaer, N. Y., Gehring was graduated from Buffalo, N. Y., high school, where he made a record as an athlete. When he completed his education at Pennsylvania State University he entered the army in World War 1. Upon his discharge he joined Twentieth Century Fox.

AN ICY ENDING TO FIRE — The First Methodist Church in Syracuse, N. Y., wrecked by fire Jan. 15, is an icy ruin Jan. 16 as water used by firemen froze to walls and made streets a solid sheet of ice. A hook and ladder, right, froze to the building and autos in vicinity were packed in ice. Three firemen were injured in blaze which wrecked another building and damaged three others. (AP Wirephoto) spots between New York and Newburgh and between Syracuse and Buffalo.

Cold Shatters

Icy road conditions throughout the metropolitan New York area were reported by the Associated Press, and the New York Weather Bureau forecast a chance of more snow in that area late tonight or tomorrow morning.

Road conditions became more hazardous as snow hardened into ice in sub-freezing temperatures last night and early today.

The Automobile Club of New York reported that roads throughout the metropolitan area were generally clear but hazardous along many sections.

Streets Slippery

One minor accident was reported in Ulster county and local police received reports of slippery streets.

Stanley Radzkowski, 23, an IBM engineer residing temporarily on Glasco turnpike, town of Woodstock, escaped injuries about 8 a. m. today when his car skidded on Route 375, just below the White Horse Inn, and struck a barn, according to a report in the Ulster county sheriff's office.

Deputy Sheriff Arthur Smith said Mr. Radzkowski was proceeding from Woodstock toward Kingston when his car slipped off the road on a sharp curve and struck a large barn on the property of Lydia Russell.

Minor damage was done to the barn, it was reported. A mail box was also knocked down. The car was damaged in the hood and bumper.

New Midwest Chill

Temperatures moderated in some sections of the ice-chilled northern midwest today but snow and blustery winds made a fresh entry there, the Associated Press reported.

No general relief from the season's longest cold snap appeared imminent.

Newsprint Goes Up

New York, Jan. 17 (AP)—Great Northern Paper Co. announced today it will raise the price of newsprint $4 a ton to $134, delivered in New York, on March 1. It was the first U. S. owned manufacturer to announce an increase in the current round of price hikes. A spokesman for the Great Northern Sales Co. in New York said the firm serves about 240 newspapers. Its mills are centered in Maine. The other firms which have made similar increases are owned by Canadian or British interests. They are Abitibi Power & Paper Co., Consolidated Paper Corp., St. Lawrence Corp., Bowater Paper Co., and Powell River Co.
